Ridgway Awaits Decision

Red Radio Gives No Hint Of Fate Of Truce Parley

TOKYO, Sunday, Aug. 26—(AP)—The Peiping radio today again blasted the allies for allegedly bombing the Kaesong neutral zone and gave no hint whether the Reds were ready to resume armistice talks.

The broadcast by an unidentified Red spokesman did not purport to be an answer to the broadside fired into the Commist camp Saturday by General Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme allied commander.

Ridgway in tough language rejected the Red charges that an allied plane bombed and strafed Kaesong Wednesday. And he told the Reds he was ready to resume talks even though their charges were "so utterly false" and "preposterous" they merited no reply.

The Peiping broadcast zeroed in its attack on Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior U. N. truce delegate. It accused him of distorting the "facts" of the incident which led the Reds Thursday to suspend the talks.

It maintained that the Communists delegation was forced to suspend the conferences because it was "exposed to possible attack at any time."

Peiping said for this reason it was wrong of Ridgway to say—as he did in an earlier message—that the Red suspension was premediated.

Plane Must Have Been Allied

The Peiping spokesman also declared that since the U. N. claims military control of the air all the way to the Manchurian border the plane that did the bombing must have been from the U. N. side.

Ridgway in his message Saturday said flatly he had talked to his air officers and no U. N. plane was anywhere near Kaesong at the time of the purported incident.

The Peiping radio last night carried a belligerent editorial from a Shanghai newspaper declaring "if peace cannot be attained through negotiations, then we must have peace through a positive anti-aggression struggle."

This was the same line the Reds had been following in broadcasts since the armistice talks were suspended. The U. N. command, ready for any renewed attack, nevertheless made it clear that the issue of war or armistice in Korea was up to the Communists.

Ridgway Willing To Resume

In his official reply to the Chinese and North Korean Red commanders, the allied supreme commander said their charges of Kaeson neutral zone violations were "malicious falsehoods." Nevertheless, he said he was willing to resume truce talks.

The Communists broke off the conferences Thursday, demanding a "satisfactory reply" to their charges that an allied plane tried to "murder" the Red truce delegation by bombing and strafing the conference city Wednesday night. The Reds, using that pretext, broke off the truce talks Thursday.

Some quarters in Tokyo expressed grave doubt that the Reds would accept Ridgway's spade-calling message as "satisfactory." But they might, and then tell the world they were doing it for the sake of peace.

Allied monitors were tuned in on all Red radio channels for some reaction to the message but, by early Sunday morning, there was none.

Ridgway left the Communists no opportunity to "save face." He called their accusations "preposterous"—and an effort to inject "insidious propaganda" into the armistice talks.

B-29s Blast Enemy Port Near Siberia

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sunday, Aug. 26—(AP)—U. S. Superforts Saturday blasted Rashin—which General MacArthur once was denied permission to attack because of the port's proximity to Soviet Siberia.

The B-29s dropped more than 300 tons of bombs on the northeast Korean supply port 20 miles from Russian territory. The 35 bombers centered their assault on railroad installations.

It was the second bombing since the Korean war broke out June 25, 1950, but the first since the U. S. Defense department told Mac Arthur to lay off. Rashin (Najin) first was bombed Aug. 12, 1950.

(In Washington, the Defense department said Saturday's surprise attack was "part of the general policy of preventing the enemy from building up his forces in Korea. Reconnaissance indicated a substantial buildup in the Rashin area." The statement was in answer to newsmen's questions whether the raid represented a change in policy.)

MacArthur Sought Permission

Last May, MacArthur testified after his removal as supreme allied commander that he had repeatedly asked Washington in February or March for permission to resume bombing Rashin.

Defense Secretary Marshall told the Senate investigating committee MacArthur was denied permission because of the "question of risk involved in an operation so close to the Soviet frontier."

Rashin is some 110 miles south of Vladivostok. MacArthur had described it as a great distributing point from Red Manchuria to eastern Korea coastal areas.

The B-29s, escorted by U. S. Navy Panther jets, flew to Rashin in clear weather from bases in Japan and Okinawa. Their Air Forces reported the plans met no anti-aircraft or fighter opposition.

MIGs Flee From Sabres

In the northwest corner of Korea, 21 U. S. Sabrejets chased off 30 Russian-type MIG-15 sweptwing jets in a flashing dogfight near Sinui-Ju, Yalu river border city. At least one MIG was reported damaged.

It was the second air battle in two days. Two MIGs were shot down Friday in a tangle between 26 Sabrejets and 40 MIGs.

On the ground, fierce patrol clashes were general on the central and eastern fronts. The Communists were reported increasingly sensitive to allied patrol thrusts.

Eighth army intelligence officers reported a continuing buildup of Red forces in the northern section of the old "iron triangle" on the central front.

Economy Pledge Being Asked

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 25—(AP)—The President of Missouri Public Expenditures Survey got an early start on the 1952 elections today by asking any candidates for governor to pledge efficiency and economy.

The president of the taxpayers' organization, J. R. Baker of Fulton, Mo., said all candidates should urge establishment of a Missouri "little Hoover commission" to look into the possibilities for state government economy.

He said he was not criticizing the activities of any previous holder of the government's job. The idea, instead, is to set up a program for greater government efficiency in the future.

He sent letters to some 10,000 Missouri civic and political leaders, figuring that way every possible candidate for the governorship would be reached.

"The constitution and law make efficient government possible but they cannot compel it. It will result only if the executive will go as far as the law permits in bringing efficiency and economy, taking advantage of all the tools of good government that are available to him," he wrote.

The Weather

Partly cloudy Sunday and Monday with scattered showers or thunderstorms over most of state Sunday night, continuing into Monday morning; not so farm northwest Sunday, cooler west and north Monday; highs Sunday 80s northwest to 95 southeast.

Plumbing Shop Is Dynamited

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 25—(AP)—An explosion police attributed to dynamiters ripped through a plumbing shop in northeast Kansas City early today damaging the building but causing no casualties.

Windows in nearby structures were shattered by the blast, which awakened neighbors from their sleep at 1:45 a.m.

The front section of the shop was torn away and an automobile parked outside was damaged.

Fred Ennis of the police arson squad said three or four sticks of dynamite apparently had been set off in the store.

Owner Richard Wilson said he couldn't account for the explosion. He put damage to shop fixtures at $1,000. Damage to the building housing it was estimated at $3,500.

India Plans To Skip Meet On Jap Peace

By The Associated Press

India is expected to announce this week-end that it will not send any delegation to the Japanese peace conference at San Francisco.

In both Washington and New Delhi yesterday (Saturday), it was reported that Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru planned to make the announcement Monday. (Sunday night in the United States).

India's final word came in a note to which the State department was drafting a reply yesterday. Because of India's influence in Asia, diplomats made no secret of their disappointment that Nehru decided against taking part.

Burma, neighbor to India, already has decided against signing the treaty. Also Yugoslavia has said it wasn't concerned enough about the treaty to send a delegation.

Nehru Steers Clear

India, following Nehru's policy of steering clear of the West's dispute with Russia, has urged several changes in the treaty which were rejected by the U. S. and Britain.

India proposed that the treaty state specifically that Formosa should be returned to China, the Ryukyu and Bonin Islands be returned to Japan and the American plan of keeping forces on Japanese soil be eliminated. Soviet Russia, which is sending a delegation headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, has made it plain that Moscow would like to see the same changes made.

Neither Nationalist nor Communist China was invited.

Indonesia notified the U. S. yesterday it will send a delegation and Foreign Secretary Carlos Romulo said he would head a six-man group from the Philippines. These made it certain that at least 47 nations will be represented at the ceremonies in San Francisco starting Sept. 4.

Five Have Not Reported

Still to be heard from, out of the 55 nations eligible, are the Netherlands, Argentina, Egypt, Syria and Lebanon.

Senator Connally (D-Tex), who was to have been one of those signing for the United States, may pass up the trip. Friends said that if he doesn't go, it won't mean he is displeased with the treaty but that more probably the Texas political situation is the reason.

Connally is one of several Democrats running for re-election next year who are reported to have told President Truman they regard Secretary of State Acheson as a political liability. Acheson is to head the U. S. delegation at the signing.

Famed Cuban Lawyer Dies

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 25—(AP)—Dr. Antonio Sanchez De Bustamante, the founder of a code of private internatoinal law and a former justice of the permanent court of international justice at the Hague, died of a heart ailment last night. He was 86.

Noted as a lawyer, teacher and writer, he was President of the Pan-American Congress held in Havana in 1928.

Well Known Author Dies

GREAT FALLS, Aug. 25—(AP)—Joseph Kinsey Howard, 45, widely known Great Falls author and former local newspaper man, died suddenly today at his summer home near Choteau. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

4,000 Participate In Mass Jump

Spectacular Para-Drop Ends Army's Giant War Maneuvers

FORT BRAGG, N. C., Aug. 25—(AP)—Spectacular air jumps today by 4,000 paratroopers climaxed the Army-Air Force war games during which 13 men were reported by the Army to have died of non-combat causes.

The first casualty report for the 12 days of the maneuvers which will end over the week-end gave this breakdown on deaths among the 110,000 men:

Six by drowning, three in private motor vehicle accidents, two by lightning, one from "horseplay," and one from polio.

Total casualties, not including today's reached 3,104—including 2,477 from illness or disease and others from various accidents. The Army said this casualty rate was lower than had been expected.

The report gave no names of the dead or injured.

Two Paratroopers Badly Hurt

Two paratroopers are known to have suffered possible serious injury in the air drop today by elements of the 82nd airborne division. They have back injuries.

Two other jumpers had fractured legs. Several score came through with cuts, bruises and other minor injuries.

All those injured today were evacuated by helicopters to hospitals behind the drop zone. Those most seriously hurt plunged into pine and scrub oak trees when one flight of planes overshot the drop zone. About 2,000 more will jump tomorrow.

In actual fighting, the great majority of the injured jumpers would have carried their bumps and bruises into combat after receiving first aid treatment. But in the maneuvers, the commanding officers are following a safety-first program even with minor injuries.

Gen. Hickey Leads Jump

A total of 2,600 paratroopers jumped in a morning drop, and then another 1,400 "hit the silk" in an afternoon jump led by Maj. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey, commander of the 82nd. It was Hickey's 12th parachute jump in the last year.

The paratroopers jump and the "controlled" games, gave a strong counter-offensive punch to U. S. defense forces in the maneuver. The jump was designed to overwhelm the enemy aggressor force.

The games—known as exercise southern pine—have not been free-wheeling contest with all the sound and fury of actual combat. The maneuvers have been a series of pitched problems controlled by umpires, to give troops, command staffs and supporting units experience in dealing with predetermined situations.

Boyle Target Of Probe

Senate To Check His Connection With RFC Loan

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—(AP)—A Senate investigation was ordered today into any connection Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., may have had with government loans to a St. Louis printing firm.

Boyle has denied that he had anything to do with influencing the loans—totaling $565,000—and President Truman had stood by him. Mr. Truman said he was convinced after an investigation that Boyle told the truth.

Senator Hoey (D-NC)), chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, ordered " a full investigation", saying "There is no effort to prejudge the case but merely to develop the facts and clarify the situation."

The inquiry will get underway next month and Senator Nixon (R-Calif) said he assumed Boyle will be called as a witness.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch originated the charges against Boyle in a series of stories relating that the American Lithofold Corporation got the loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) after hiring Boyle as an attorney, and after having been turned down three times before.

The Post-Dispatch said Boyle was paid $8,000 for his services. Boyle said he received $1,250 from the firm for legal work he did before he quit his law practice to become a fulltime employe of the Democratic committee in 1949.

Plan Full Inquriy

Senator Hoey's statement said: "Based upon the preliminary investigation made by our staff, the sub-committee decided to make a full investigation of the loans made by RFC to the American Lithofold Corporation, of St. Louis, together with the dealings of this corporation with other officials or agencies of the government, including the employment of William M. Boyle, Jr."

Boyle's name came up in the investigation of the RFC by a Senate Banking subcommittee headed by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark). The Fulbright committee report, approved by the majority, said the RFC seemed to heed the wishes of the Democratic committee, but did not specifically accuse Boyle of any wrongdoing. It did say that he appeared to have had influence over the RFC Board of Directors.

Boyle, President Truman's own choice for the party chairmanship, got his political start in Kansas City and worked his way up during the boom days of the Pendergast organization, headed by "Boss Tom" Pendergast, which was also helpful to Mr. Truman in his campaigns for county judge and for senator.

A minority report from the Fulbright committee, written by Senators Capehart (R-Ind) and Bricker (R-Ohio) sharply questioned the activities of Boyle with American Lithograph. It said he and Mr. Truman had raised "Pendergast politics" to the national level.

Senator McClellan told a reporter today that "stories about Boyle's connections with the loan have been bandied around with implications or accusations that he did something wrong" and "Boyle should want to clear it up."

Boyle was reported on his way to California, after a party meeting in French Lick, Ind.

Lions To Score Stockcar Races

Members of the Sedalia Lions club will meet at the stage in front of the grandstand at 12:00 noon today for the purpose of scoring the stockcar races. The Lions took the scoring "chore" as a project.

There will be 25 men who will be on the stage. Each man will have a car and its number. As his car passes in front of the grandstand he will check the lap and score it.

The Lions are requested to be on hand early.

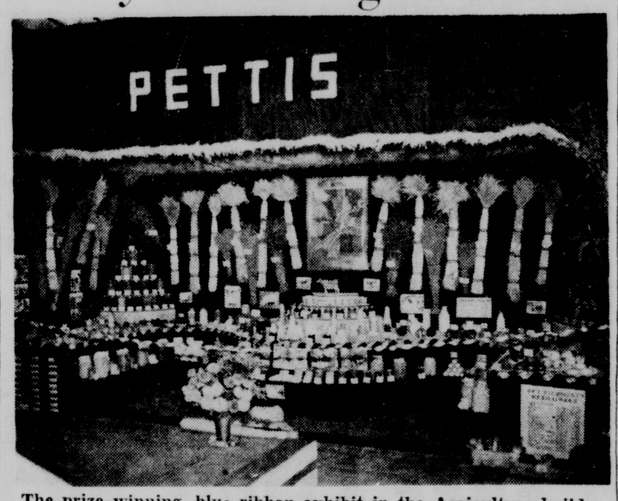

Jet Crashes Canada; No Trace Of Pilot

TORONTO, Aug. 25—(AP)—A jet aircraft crashed and exploded within 100 yards of a residential area in suburban North York today.

Eyewitnesses said a ball of fire shot about 70 feet into the air when the plane hit. An hour after the crash, firemen still battled the smouldering ruins. There was no trace of the pilot.

The plane plowed into the earth just off the Downsview airport.

County Exhibit Again Wins

The prize-winning, blue ribbon exhibit in the Agriculture building, shown above, was prepared by Mrs. W. H. Sperber and daughter, Stella. The award brought $300 in cash prizes to the Cperbers, and a distinction of having won the award for three-straight years. Shown in the background are some of the various grains which are grown in Pettis county. (See story in Col. 6-7 at bottom of page).

Bandit 'Cases' Tavern 5 Hours; Gets $2,000

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 25—(AP)—A young bandit sipped beer in a tavern about five hours before he held up the place and escaped tonight with nearly $2,000.

The man drew a revolver and herded the bartender, three waitresses and four customers into the men's room. He took $180 from the customers, $300 from the tavern owner, Alan Hoffman, and forced Hoffman to open the safe and hand over $1,500 in tavern receipts.

Church Leader Guest Speaker

Rev. Dr. Percival To Address a Joint Meeting of Clubs

Rev. Dr. George Percival of Chesterfield, England, minister of Saltergate Methodist church in that city, and one of the leading Methodist clergymen of Great Britain, will address a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs at a dinner, August 27th.

Rev. Dr. Percival

Dr. Percival, who at present is filling the pulpit of the Trinity Methodist Church in Kansas City, is one of eight prominent British preachers who have come to America this summer as Ambassador of goodwill representing more than 600,000 Methodists of Great Britain.

While Dr. Percival is in the United States, the minister of Kansas City's Trinity Church, Dr. Ben Morris Pidpath, is in England filling the pulpit at Chesterfield and speaking before various groups there.

These exchanges, officially arranged by a special committee of church leaders of the United State and Great Britain, are designed to promote a spirit of friendliness and goodwill between the two great English speaking nations of the world.

While visiting in Kansas City, Dr. Percival is speaking in many different places in Missouri. The British preacher is Secretary of the Sheffield Methodist District in addition to being pastor of the Saltergate Church, one of the oldest Methodist Churches in England, founded in 1795. Dr. Percival will close his ministry in America September 9 at which time he and his family will return to Great Britain to report their observations made in America.

Mr. Fish Gets Hooked

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 25—(AP)—"Some fish story," commented Judge Truman Preston today after listening to the Laments of a motorist arrested for speeding.

The driver told the judge that his wife had become ill after eating fish and that he was hurrying to take her home.

William Fish of 104 Fish ave. got hooked for a $10 fine.

Connally Asks Deeper Aid Cut

Says Can't Keep On "Supporting The Whole World"

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—(AP)—Senator Tom Connally of Texas, veteran Democratic leader, called today for deeper cuts in foreign economic aid, saying "we can't go on forever supporting the whole world."

Connally spoke out at a news conference, one day after the Senate foreign relations committee which he heads and the armed services committee had voted to cut about $675,000,000 in economic aid and $290,000,000 in military help from President Truman's $8,500,000,000 foreign aid request.

President Truman was reported to have protested vigorously against these cuts but that failed to sway Connally, who lately has rebelled against some of the administration's foreign aid policies.

Connally said he would prefer to see the $290,000,000 military reduction restored to the bill when the Senate acts on it. If it is not restored, he said he would still favor making the economic cut an even $1,000,000,000 instead of $675,000,000.

"Sooner or later we have got to cut this economic program," he said. "We can't go on forever supporting the whole world with hand-outs to these nations just because we like them—or for any other reason."

Large Expenditures

As for military aid to those nations resisting Communism, Connally said the national security requires "large expenditures to contribute to the military defense of areas which are vital to us."

Connally's remarks were comparable to his outburst of July 30 when he told William C. Foster, head of the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) that ECA officials were trying to "cover the earth" with money squeezed from American taxpayers. He objected then in particular to economic aid programs for southeast Asia, and President Truman was moved to comment that he was very sorry the Senator took that position.

Today Connally said:

"There is no justification for the United States to embark on enormous economic assistance programs all over the world. That's why I'd vote to cut it. We simply cannot afford it at this time even if there were justification."

He said the ECA was scheduled to end in 1952 "and it ought to end on schedule."

The President was said to be resigned to a cut of about $1,000,000,000, even while objecting to it. The bill's total as sent to the Senate for action beginning Monday was $7,535,000,000. The sum was only $37,000,000 more than the House previously had voted for the start of a three-year program which Secretary of State Acheson has estimated will cost about $25,000,000,000 in the long run.

Aviation Day Closes 49th Fair

50 Navy Aircraft To Display Skills For Fair Patrons

Today is Aviation Day at the Missouri State Fair. A touch of color will be added to the day's activities with a flight of more than 50 U. S. Naval aircraft flying over the fair grounds in formation. The planes are expected between 1:00 and 1:15 p. m.

The flight will include, it was reported, several jet-propelled planes, fighters and torpedo planes. As they approach the grounds, several test demonstration of dive bombing, torpedo launching, and fighter dog-fights will be seen in the air.

Lieutenant Cameron, Public Relations Office from the U. S. Naval Air Base, Olathe, Kas., was in Sedalia Saturday, completing plans for the flight over the fair grounds and Sedalia.

Today's program also includes the 100-mile stock car race to be held on the mile oval. Some 30 stock car drivers have entered the gruelling contest and Gaylor D. White, in charge of the event, indicated Saturday several more are expected.

Chitwood to Perform At Night

The night program includes the Cetlin-Wilson shows on the midway and a thrill show in front of the grandstand to be given by the Joie Chitwood thrill drivers. The thrill show has performed here before and is comprised of some of the nationally-famous thrill and daredevil drivers.

Secretary-Manager W. E. "Bill" Preston, Saturday said "We didn't meet the 500,000 attendance at the nine-day exposition, but we are closing in. The attendance Saturday was 49,462, compared with 38,061 for the corresponding Saturday of 1950. The total attendance for 1950 was 360,021, and our attendance is 39,691 more than last year with Sunday's attendance to be added. The total for eight days this year is 399,712.

Fair Officials Grateful

The secretary continues, "I am most grateful for the co-operation shown Robert Thornburg, Commissioner of Agriculture and myself of every person employed by the fair. We have enjoyed one of the best years of the state fair. We both appreciate the cooperation of the thousand of exhibitors in every department from livestock, the home economics, the machinery, automobile, Cetlin-Wilson Shows, Grand Circuit, night show, horse show, and every one.

"It has been a great fair and I am sure these thousands of Missourians who attended enjoyed every minute they were on the grounds. We have bigger things in store for our Golden Anniversary fair which will be in 1952 when the 50th Missouri State Fair Exposition will be held."

Commissioner Thornburg in discussing the fair concurred with Secretary Preston in his thanks to the thousands of persons connected directly and indirectly with the fair this year. "It has been a great year, we have tried to give to Missouri an outstanding Exposition, and I feel that our endeavors were accomplished. This must be true from the hundreds of thousands of Missourians who came to see, enjoy, and left to tell their friends and neighbors about it."

The Norborne High School, FFA Vocational Agriculture chapter, won the Governor's Sweepstakes plaque at the Missouri State Fair for the 10th time in 13 years.

The sweepstakes plaque was presented by Governor Forrest Smith to the FFA chapter in Missouri which makes the most outstanding exhibit of livestock in the FFA division.

Twenty-six boys entered 20 head of baby beef, 100 head of hogs, 50 head of sheep and 1 Jersey bull calf. The chapter brought their livestock to the fair in six, 1½ ton trucks, 1 pickup and 2 semi-trailers. They won around $1300 in prize money which included 54 blue ribbons, 81 red and 82 white.

Russell Stark, Norborne, showed the grand champion Chester White fat barrow in the junior division He was sold to the Sedalia & Marshall Packing Co. for $1.15 a pound in front of the grandstand Thursday night. Col.

Contest Draws 4,000

Max Kurtz Wins Rodeo For Tractors

More than 4,000 persons were on hand Saturday morning to watch Max Kurtz of Oregon, Mo., drive-off with the first prize in the Missouri State Fair Tractor Rodeo.

The rodeo, which was the first of its kind ever to be held at the fair, is a contest in tractor driving skill and was co-sponsored by Missouri Ruralist and the Missouri State Fair. Cash awards of $50, $25, $15, $10, $10, and $10 was presented the winners by Corell Tindall, associate editor of Missouri Ruralist an dsuperintendent of the rodeo.

18 Contestants Enter

Eighteen contestants, who had won in previous county rodeos, took part in the tractor driving show. Thirteen tractors, two wagons, and two fertilizer drills were used for the event.

The rodeo was staged in three events. The first event was the "driving pen" where a tractor was attached to a wide-wheel fertilizer drill and driven through a pen 20 feet wide and 40 feet long. The tractor and drill was driven through four gates in a "figure 8" design, half of which was in reverse. The gates were only eight inches wider than the drill.

The second event was the "wagon dock" in which the tractor was hitched to a four-wheeled wagon, and backed into a stall just 12 inches wider than the wagon.

The last event was called "belting up". Two tractors were belted together, and the contestant had to align the pulleys, place and tighten the belt.

Points were counted against the contestants for the belt not being on straight, for shifting gears, for spacing the wagon off sides in the stall, and for touching the gate posts with his equipment.

List Of Other Winners

Other winners of the contest were: 2nd, Gale Wasson, Vandalia; 3rd, Rupert LaForge, Rich Hill; 4th, Emerson Denney, Moberly; 5th, S. E. Johnson, Palmyra; and 6th, Harold F. Evert, Washington.

The event, which was held in the coliseum at 10 o'clock, was free to the visitors at the Missouri State Fair.

New Committee Named To Study Flood Policies

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 25—(AP)—Appointment of a new committee to study policies for federal financial activities in flood rehabilitation was announced today.

The group was formed after conferences between President H. G. Leedy of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City and A. E. Howse, personal representative of Defense Mobilization Director Charles A. Wilson.

Besides bankers, the committee of 20 includes experts on business, farm, savings and loan, labor, real estate and government assistance. The first meeting has been set for Wednesday morning.

Leedy is chairman of the committee.

In a letter to him, Howse said he would "like to look to this committee for advice and recommendations" on the following points:

"1. How can the present activities of the federal agencies (concerned with financial aspects of flood rehabilitation) be better coordinated and unified so that flood victims may have available to them perhaps in a single place, a complete financial program representing the combined services of the federal agencies in this field?

"2. What, if any, gaps exist in the present activities and authorities of these federal agencies in relation to the needs of the flood disaster?

"3. What additional program, authority and funds are needed to insure a prompt, effective rehabilitation job?"

Mother-Daughter Team Plans Prize Pettis County Exhibit

The Pettis county exhibit at the State Fair took first place for the third straight year. The exhibit was compiled by Mrs. W. H. Sperber and daughter Miss Stella Sperber, route 3, Sedalia.

Mrs. Sperber and her daughter won $300 with the first place award for the exhibit with the most complete and most well-organized display.

Miss Stella Sperber is not a new hand at fixing exhibits as she worked with various 4-H clubs during the past ten years in that line of work, once winning a trip to Washington D. C. for her efforts.

All County Crops Included

Together she and her mother planned and erected the display which includes a sample of every crop of all varieties grown in Pettis county. Not only did they display the crops grown in Pettis county, but also had numerous articles manufactured with in the county such as dairy products.

They collected the finest samples of grain, both on the stalk and by the head—flowers, garden vegetables, fruits, tree limbs and fish.

Mrs. Sperber has been putting up prize winning exhibits in this county for the past 30-years and always they have been near the top in their field.

Grains Form Background

The background of the display was fixed with the different grains grown in Pettis county such as barley, wheat, corn, and rye, which were tied in neat bundles and hung along the back wall. In the front she had sacks of the heads of these grains which were exposed at the top to show their quality.

Along the front of the display Mrs. Sperber and Stella had fixed bits of tree limbs on boards with the labeling of the kind of tree underneath.

The ceiling and sides of the exhibit were coved with attractive designs of crepe paper and in the middle over a bottle of canned fruit lay the blue ribbon for the first premium on county exhibits.

10 Hurt In Collision Of Mexican Trains

NUEVO LAREDO, Mexico, Aug. 25—(AP)—The southbound "Aztec Eagle" collided with northbound train number three from Mexico City today 125 miles south of this border city.

The diesel engine and several passenger cars of the Eagle overturned. Ten passengers were injured.

The accident occurred between El Puerto and Palo Blanco stations.

Glide Through Air Smooth in A Dirigible

Whether you call it a blimp or a dirigible there is no mistake; it is the smoothest ride in the air. This point was agreed upon by all persons who received the opportunity of riding in the "Stag Beer" blimp which appeared over Sedalia and at the State Fair Friday evening and all day Saturday.

The blimp which is being used as an advertising means for the Stag Beer Co., is 150 feet long, seats three passengers and a pilot, runs on a 145-horsepower and two motors and is held aloft by 123,000 cubic feet of helium, a non-inflamable gas.

The huge blimp is piloted by four top-rated pilots. They are: Verner L. Smith, pilot in charge of public relations, who has spent over 16,000 hours in the air in dirigible flight; J. A. Boetner, who is in charge of the ten-state tour which is now being made by the blimp; Larry Fureolow; and I. I. Eastin, who is not with the group in their present engagement.

Verner Smith, who is a senior pilot, served in the navy during the last war and was pilot of a dirigible. He now holds the title of Captain Pilot and has a rank of commander in the naval reserve. He stated that he started his training as a dirigible pilot as a young man about 19 years old, and had always wanted to be a dirigible pilot.

The group came to Sedalia about 6:00 o'clock Friday directly from a fair which was held at Springfield, Mo. After leaving Sedalia late Saturday they went to Moberly and from there to Des Moines, Iowa.

Thousands of Air Hours

Smith and Boetner have more dirigible air hours to their credit, about 16,000 hours each, than any two pilots in the world.

The advertising which is flashed on the side of the blimp is controlled by a typed, perforated tape, located in the cabin. This tape is typed just before it is used by a special device carried in a truck, which accompanies the blimp across the country. The lights work off of a generator and are fastened to the side of the craft. These lights can be seen for nine miles distance and can be read for three miles.

The average Sedalian would be amazed at the appearance of their town from the air. Coming over the Missouri Pacific shops, the farm lands, which are located to the north and south, look like well-placed patches on a quilt, with a small speck, which actually is a chicken, darting for shelter. As the blimp arrives, in a short time, over the business district the native citizen would be startled to find that the streets in the first eight or nine blocks running east and west are a tangled, crooked mass. The cars and trains which can be seen running for miles look like fugitives from a toy shop. And then, as the residential district comes into sight small inanimate white specks are all that may be seen.

Mostly Over Fair Grounds

This specific dirigible trip was mostly over the fair grounds which appear only as large as a modest front lawn from the air. The grandstand and the huge midway at the fair appeared small and insignificant and as the pilot cuts the motors, no sounds are heard, except those in the basket-like cabin which hangs from the bottom of the blimp.

Then, on the return trip at a lower altitude the objects seen before are merely enlarged.

The ride is smooth, without a rumple. The take-off and landing are the same. On taking off, you mearly lean back and suddenly, with great speed for so large a craft, you are 1,000 feet above ground, which at first seems unfamiliar.

The landing is just as simple. The nose of the blimp goes steadily down and then levels. Men on the ground crew catch hold of ropes which dangle from the blimp all through the flight, and slowly pull it the remainder of the way to the earth.

For anchoring the dirigible at night, when it is not being used, the ten-man ground crew, which is required by this craft, constructs a pole-like structure with a cup-hole at the top. When the craft lands it is towed to the pole, a bar from the nose is placed in the hole at the top of the pole and a clamp is fastened down.

After this, numerous sand bags are placed aboard the blimp and it is settled until the next flight.

It's smooth, it's exciting, and it's fun.

Electrical Fair at Tipton

Jack H. Needy, manager of the Co-Mo Electric Co-Operative, Inc., of the Rural Electrification Administration, announces a two-day program in Tipton, Thursday and Friday, August 30 and 31 at the Lem Thomas Park in the south part of town.

On the opening day there will be an Electrical Fair starting at 7:30 p. m.

Manufacturers, in co-operation with local dealers, will have the very latest of electrical appliances on display in their booths.

Besides the showing of this latest equipment, there will be a program by the Vaughan sisters, singing stars; Joe Tucker and Ray Leonard, top-notch magicians, and Miss Bettilou Goza, outstanding acrobatic dancer.

The kiddies haven't been over looked either for there will be rides for them on the grounds at a nominal charge.

The Electrical Fair is housed in a huge tent, 40x130 feet and just to the rear of this tent is another large one, 100x130 feet where on the following day will be held the Co-Mo's annual members' meeting.

Cletus Helms, high school coach, is tent man and he has been with the Co-Mo caravan touring Missouri this summer.

The Co-Mo organization has 2,00 chairs, and there are four trailer loads of equipment, hauled by two tractors.

Opening the 12th annual meeting on Friday will be registration at nine o'clock a. m., when the year's business will be reported and directors elected.

There will be entertainment at both th morning and afternoon sessions, the program in the afternoon to begin at 1:15 o'clock.

Adjournment is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock and there will be no evening program.

Attendance prizes will be given away at both morning and evening meetings.

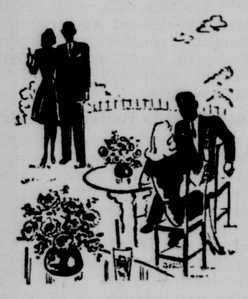

These prizes have been given by manufacturers and dealers and they are all handsome articles well worth taking home.

Tipton business firms last year gave individual prizes but this year they have pooled their cash donations and they are giving away the following attendance combination, Philco radio, Crosley radio, Utility ¼-inch electric drill, Sunbeam mixmaster, Arvin fan an heater, General Electric iron and General Electric clock.

Mr. Needy on behalf of the Co-Mo cordially welcomes each and all to the Electrical Fair to which there is no charge and looks forward to another record-breaking day for the annual members' meeting.

Czech Government is Silent About Friendship Balloons

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

MUNICH, Aug. 25 — At this writing it looks as if the Czech Communists had adopted the same strategy toward the "Winds of Freedom" operation as the U. S. army did toward the Japanese balloons of death which floated all the way across the Pacific during the war.

What the army was afraid of was that the Japs would realize how successfully their balloons were getting across the vast 5,000-mile stretch of the Pacific; therefore, the balloons' arrival was one of the most carefully censored pieces of news of the entire war.

The army adopted this policy even though it risked the lives of many Americans who did not know that the balloons carried bombs. And as a result, five children and the wife of Rev. Archie Mitchell of Bly, Ore., while on a picnic, went to examine a strange balloon in a tree and were killed.

Adoption of the same policy of silence by the Czech government means either that the Communist don't want us to know that the balloons have been hitting their target; or else Prague is frantically consulting Moscow as to "the party line" regarding friendship balloons. For no satellite government dares take a public stand without first getting its cue from the Kremlin.

Czech Flying Saucer

Meanwhile, the percentage of "hits" by Operations Winds of Freedoms must be almost 100 per cent. For, instead of sending balloons 5,000 miles across the Pacific, we have been working from just 10 miles from the Czech border. Thus almost every balloon is likely to hit — though some may over shoot the mark and come down in Poland.

By this time a total of about 15,000,000 messages have been rained in on 12,500,000 people in an area somewhat smaller than Virginia and West Virginia combined. Most of these messages fall from the sky like rain. They are released from an altitude of 30,000 feet when the Dewey and Almy rubber balloons burt. Two thousand messages are in each of these balloons, written on waterproof paper, and they scatter down in all directions. Incidentally it takes two hours for them to descend.

The other type of pillow balloon probably is treating Czechoslovakia to a siege of flying-saucer heebie-jeebies. For they are smaller editions of the huge plastic pillows made by General Mills which airplane pilots have sighted in the sky and identified as flying saucers. It is now no secret that these flying plastic pillow are part of the navy's experimental work on the cosmic ray.

The much smaller plastic pillows, made by General Mills, which we have been showering over Czechoslovakia, have the same eerie quality as the flying saucers. They come to earth gradually and bounce along the ground. The word "Svboda" or "Freedom" is printed in red letters on the side.

Inside Balloon Story

It is now possible to tell some of the inside facts as to how operations Winds of Freedom was conceived and executed. Chief credit blongs to C. D. Jackson, dynamice executive of Time, Life and Fortune, now on loan to the Committee for Free Europe. The latter committee, headed by Gen. Lucius Clay, put the Freedom Bell in Berlin last year and has been doing an important job of beaming broadcasts into satellite countries from two radio station in southern Germany.

Jackson and I first conferred regarding friendship balloons on April 13. It was exactly four months later, Aug. 13, that the first balloon was launched over Czechoslovakia.

During that four months more detailed preparation went into this operation than the Czech Communists would ever dream. One meteorologist and two balloon experts were sent to Germany a month in advance. They had to corral hydrogen tanks, trucks and train German launching crews.

Every detail had to be thought out beforehand — from selecting different launching sites to take advantage of different wind currents, to arranging for fresh hydrogen to be pumped into the tanks every morning.

Motive behind this operation is fairly simple. Communist undercover operations in the USA have kept us in a recent state of jitters. Therefore instead of fraying our nerves and using up our energies looking under our beds, we should fray Soviet nerves and keep them in a state of jitters by carrying the propaganda war to the other side of the Iron Curtain.

It has long been the traditional policy of the USA to fight our battles on the enemy's soil; not on our. But in the current war of nerves, now one of the most important phases of modern warfare, we have permitted the enemy to keep the offensive and use our territory as the battle ground.

Operation Winds of Freedom, undertaken by private individuals, not government, marks a small start in reversing this.

Balloon-Go-Round

Three American GI students studying in Germany became the expert balloon-launchers; Ross Graham of Niles, Mich., John Henniger of Pine Grove, Pa., and Richard Ives of Binghamton, N. Y. They were studying for their master's degree under the University of Maryland plan when Maryland U. supended its plan and the boys have been trying to live on the German economy to finish their course. . . . Said a Bavarian cop as he trundled his bicycle past the balloon-launching convoy: "You should drop ration cards on the Czechs. That's what the Americans did to us during the war and they were such good counterfeits that the Hitler crowd got all fouled-up." . . Lee Lewis, the General Mills balloon expert, is one of the few men ever arrested for coming down in a balloon in the USA. His arrest was at Sheboygan, Wis., where he landed his big bag rather than go out over Lake Michigan. After the cops pinched him they apologized and when Lewis couldn't find a hotel room, they let him sleep in jail. . . . Lewis says that, when traveling by balloon, there is absolutely no noise and you can hear housewives gossiping in their back yard, 2,000 feet below. . . . C. D. Jackson, the human dynamo of the committee for Free Europe, has been steeped in balloonism that at which he dreamed he was hoisted by the seat of his pants and was floating over Prague, with the word "Svboda—Freedom" painted on his rear. . . . Most people don't realize that, due to the earth's turning on its axis, the winds in the upper altitudes always blow from west to east. That is one thing that Stalin, despite his claimed omnipotence, cannot control. That's also why we can easily send balloons over the Iron Curtain, but Moscow would have difficulty sending them back to us.

"Murder" in Quotes

by Julius Long

COPR. 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: My name is James (Jimmer) Malloy and I've been acquitted of the murder of Charlie Berman, who bribed a corrupt official to get my lease on state land, where I maintained an amusement park. My lawyer says bribery can't be proved, but there's a legal way to get my land back. After my acquittal, I returned home and just after I finished taking a shower, I have a visitor, Cleo Cansino, once Charlie's girl, but now the girl friend of his brother Earnie. Cleo tells me that she knows I didn't kill Charlie, but someone else was to have visited him that night and she was to be in the next room listening. She doesn't know who the murderer was.

VI

EARNIE BERMAN had known his brother was going to have a lot of money in the house that night. He could have doubled back, for all Cleo knew. Friends could have furnished his Cleveland alibi. Any friends of either of the Berman brothers would have been capable of such a thing.

"The money was gone," I told Cleo Cansino. "Of course I didn't search Charlie Berman's body, but the sheriff's men never turned up any money. But they might have found it and concealed it."

Cleo shook her head. "You don't think I'd have passed up a roll like that if it had been there, do you?"

I didn't think she would have.

"Well, you certainly have a heart of pure calluses to be able to sit silently by while I went on trial with my life at stake."

"Nobody ever seriously considered the possibility of your going to the chair for murdering Charlie Berman. Everybody sympathized with you. Besides, you had a clever lawyer. Gene Sawyer got over the idea that you had a good war record while Charlie made his money in the black market. After he'd stolen your lease and the buildings on it, no jury would convict you for killing him. It just wasn't in the cards."

"And if it had been? Would you have watched me go to the chair?"

She eyed me with casualness. "I don't owe you a dime, Jimmer Malloy. Not a dime."

"Then why did you come here and tell me what you have?"

"Because I'm on the hook. Earnie knew I was to be at Charlie's house that night. He'd heard Charlie coaching me. And he knew the money he got from the bank was to be used as a pay-off at Charlie's house."

"Did he know who was to be paid off?"

"No. Nobody but Charlie knew that."

"But he trusted you."

CLEO blushed and tried to cover up her embarrassment by lighting another cigaret.

"All right, I've had a past. Charlie was hep. Why do you think I'd have put up with a creep like him if I hadn't had to? Now Earnie's got me just as high on the hook as Charlie had. I want off. So I've leveled with you about that night. You want off the hook, too. You want people to know you didn't kill Charlie, just as I want to make sure that Earnie can never point a finger at me merely because I was there that night. This hick D. A. might get ideas."

I got the idea—or thought I had it. I walked over to the three-stool bar built into a corner of the room and poured myself a drink. Watching me, Cleo said:

"I'll have bourbon, too." I carried her a drink. She swallowed it, unmindful of the absence of a chaser. I drank my own—it had been a long time since I'd had whiskey. The stuff burned all the way.

"So you think I can take what you've told me and turn up Charlie Berman's killer?"

I said: "I wouldn't have to turn up the killer to clear myself. All I need to do is to take you to the sheriff."

Cleo smiled cryptically. "Oh, yeah? I'm afraid you couldn't make me repeat my story to the sheriff. Besides, you wouldn't—not after I've done my share to clear this up and get both of us off the hook. I wouldn't have come here if I'd have thought there was a chance of you turning me in. A girl can tell when a guy's a heel."

IT was a build-up, but it was a cinch to work. She had me and she knew it. She confidently changed the subject.

"Now, about Earnie. He and a muscle bum named Babe Tussig are going to work you over if they can. Earnie figures he has to do it to save face after the jury freed you. Babe will help him."

I nodded. "Earnie was plain enough at the courthouse."

"And he'll have to come through. Have you got another gun in the place?"

I didn't answer her. I was thinking of what Gene Sawyer had said. If I carried a gun to protect myself from Earnie Berman and had to shoot him, I would be worse off than I would be if I took a beating. No, I wasn't going to kill anybody Neither an instinct for self-preservation or an impulse to become what people thought I was could make me do that.

"If you don't have another gun," said Cleo very seriously, "you'd better get one. Earnie means business. I hate to think of what he would do to me if he knew I'd come here to warn you."

"I'll give you three guesses," said a voice from the doorway.

We both turned. Cleo let out a little yip. Earnie Berman stood there. The man behind him was a head taller, and he had the low, sloping shoulders of a prize-fighter. Berman walked into the room, and the big man followed. The latter would be Babe Tussig.

A Little Wait—or a Big Compromise!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

If you have a Cadillac on order—or if you are giving thought to placing your order for one—we want to talk frankly with you about the matter.

There is, of necessity, some delay in delivery of new Cadillacs. You have to wait a while to get one—the time depending somewhat upon the model you select.

Naturally, you are being urged to purchase other makes of cars—which can be had almost as soon as your signature is on an order blank.

For the sake of your own welfare, we hope you will turn a deaf ear to all this—and hold firm.

If your order for a Cadillac is already in—let it stand, and be patient until your car is ready.

If you want a Cadillac, but haven't yet ordered it, do so at once—so the delay may be as short as possible.

It is a simple choice you have to make. You must choose between a little wait—or a big compromise.

You must make this choice because there is no substitute for a Cadillac.

There is no substitute for the deep world-wide respect in which it is held—

—there is no substitute for its marvelous over-all performance . . . so smooth, so quiet, so steady that to drive is to relax and to ride is to rest——and there is no substitute for the sheer joy of owning and driving it, so great that you will actually think up excuses for taking to the highway!

If you want a Cadillac—stand firm until you get it.

There is nothing else like it—nothing in all the wide, wide world that can take its place!

At First Fair Here Together And Again At One In 1951

It was back in 1901 that H. J. Schumaker right, and H. P. Eding left, had a big time attending the first Missouri State Fair. They had fun taking in the exhibits, wandering around the grounds. They didn't miss a thing at that fair—and finally they saw a photographer taking tintype pictures—so, they had their pictures taken.

It was a day always to be remembered. They had grown up together in Benton county, were schoolmates and their first grade teacher in Cole Camp was "Bill" Mayberry, who still lives there and is getting close to the century mark.

Schumaker and Eding

Schumaker and Eding then came to Sedalia. Schumaker was employed at the MKT shops and Eding was a street car conductor, which is the uniform he is wearing in the above picture. They palled around together here and then somehow they separated and didn't see each other for 40 years.

Now they are both retired. Schumaker lives at 1311 East Sixth and Eding lives in Cole Camp.

This week there was another Missouri State Fair—50 years later and Schumaker and Eding got together again and went to the fair. They looked up the old tintype and recalled the fun they had had that day.

Sure it was a bigger and better fair this year—thy admit that—but did thy have as much fun?

Schumaker shook his head and smiled: "No," he said, "We had a good time—but it wasn't quite the same."

"Did you have your pictures taken out there again?" he was asked to which he replied: "No, we couldn't find a photgrapher."

Maybe they were looking for one who took tintypes, but tintypes like the youth they had in 1901 has passed with those 50 fleeting years.

State Fair Awards

Cattle and Swine Awards

The Tom Cooper Farm, Ardmore, Okla., was the only herd from out of the state of Missouri to be entered in the Missouri State Fair Guernsey Dai.y Cattle Show. Cooper's entries did well taking the grand champion bull, Cooper's Herold, and the grand champion female, Cooper's Insure.

Yorkshire swine made their first show at the State Fair. Yorkshire breeders brought 41 head of top quality bacon type animals to be shown. Charles Booz and Son, Portis, Kas., won the grand champion boar with BL Pines Cocade 27D while the James Pecan Farms, Brunswick, won the grandchampion sow with R. J. Pride 3rd.

The Yorkshire breed is increasing in Missouri and showing in rather large numbers. It promises to be a strong class in future fairs.

JOIE CHITWOOD'S "AUTO DAREDEVILS"

This year we have the most thrilling exhibition of precision driving we have ever offered. Altogether we have developed 27 different acts, including such spine-chilling feats as: The 85-foot ramp-to-ramp jump—Blazing barrier crashes—Snap roll crashes—The slide for life . . . and many, many more spectacular demonstrations of outstanding skill and daring!

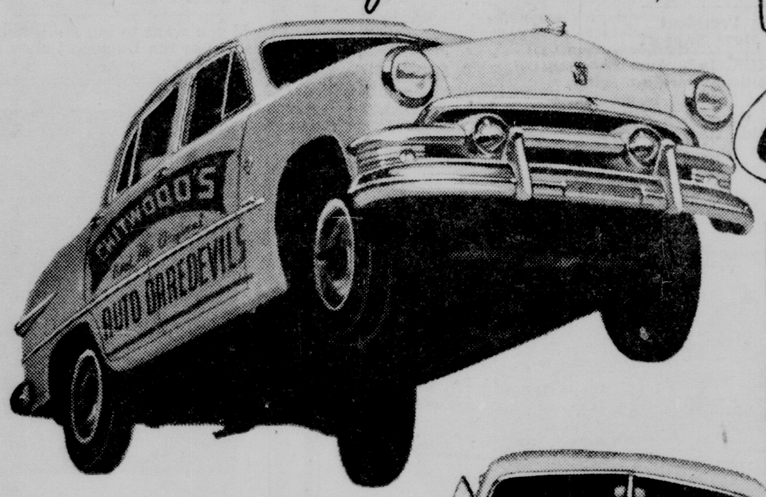

We have been using stock Ford Cars in our acts for the past 3 years. And by "stock" cars I mean Fords that are exactly the same as those sold to the public by Ford Dealers. The only difference is that we move the gas tank into the trunk and add skid plates to some of our cars.

We use Fords because our experience has proved that these sturdy cars have what it takes to stand up under the terrific punishment we give them. They have the quick, abundant power and positive-action brakes essential to the success of our stunts. And Ford's "Lifeguard" Body—rugged construction—and the over-all balance of Ford Cars offer an extra margin of safety for our drivers.

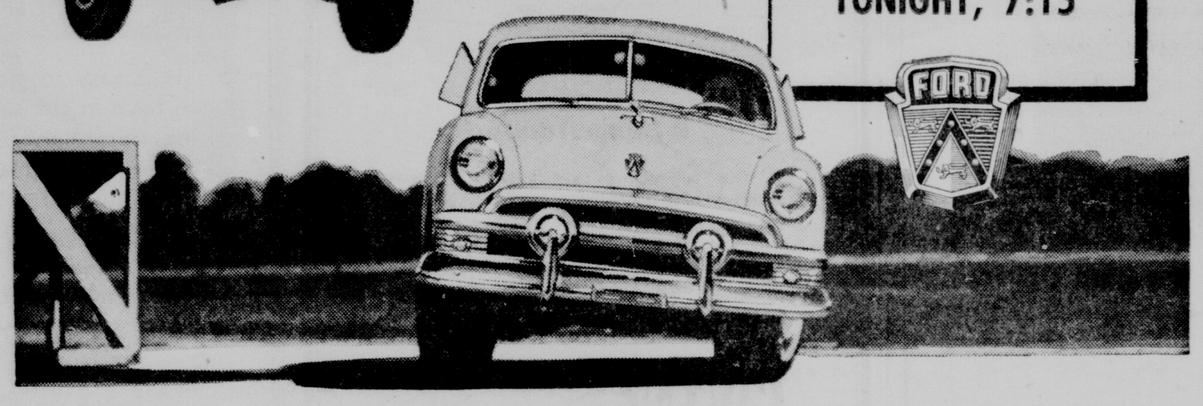

I hope all of you can come to our show . . . for I'm sure the "Daredevils" will thrill you just as they have more than 5,000,000 folks throughout North America during recent years.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Edith McNeal

Mrs. Edith McNeal, 64, died at 5 a. m. Friday at Beuna Vista home where she had lived about 33 years.

Surviving are two daughters Mrs. Mary Edwards, Syracuse; Mrs. Sarah Combs, Syracuse; one son William Shaw of Franklin; 12 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren and one sister Mrs. Sadie Moore of Independence.

Funeral services were held at 3:30 Saturday aftrenoon at the Bunea Vista home with the Rev. Roy Bowers, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Music was by Mrs. W. L. Lewis and Mrs. C. D. Demand, singers, with Mrs. Mae Moser at the piano.

Pallbearers were Lawrence Adams, Willis Hays, John Billingsley, Douglas Peoples, George Peoples and Emmett Combs.

Burial was in Crown Hill cemetery.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin chapel.

Mrs. Ethel Looney

Mrs. Ethel Looney, 77, 410 East Howard, died at 6:30 a.m. Friday, following a heart attack.

She was born in Iberia, Mo., on January 25, 1874, the daughter of the late John and Malinda Brandon.

Mrs. Looney spent the early portion of her life in Laclede county. On February 17, 1895 she was married to John Wesley Looney at Eldridge, Mo. The family moved here about 50 years ago.

Mr. Looney was a Missouri Pacific Shop employe in Sedalia. He died December 6, 1947. Two children also preceded Mrs. Looney in death.

Surviving children are: Mrs. Irene Schmidt, Denver, Colo., Argus Looney, Edgewater, Md.; Harry Looney, Detroit, Mich.; Miss Eva Looney, Phoenix, Ariz.; Clyde Looney, Gardenia, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Rose McKelvey and Mrs. Lulu Wilson and a brother, Will Brandon, six grand children and one great grandchild also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the Gillespie funeral home Monday at 2:00 p.m. Burial will be in the Crown Hill cemetery. The Rev. Von R. Kemp, pastor of the Assembly of God church, of which she was a member, will officiate. Mrs. Kemp will have charge of the music. The body is at the Gillespie funeral home.

Funeral Of M. C. Meyer

Funeral services for Martin C. Meyer were held August 17 at 1:30 p. m. at James funeral home and the Bethel Evangelical church at 2 p. m.

Burial was in the Evangelical cemetery near Concordia.

Mr. Meyer was born October 21, 1869 near Concordia. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nora Rekkop Meyer, two sons, Orville D. of the home and Edgar, two grandchildren of Concordia and two brothers, Arthur and August Meyer.

David Marvin Kabakoff

David Marvin Kabakoff, operator of a concession at the State Fair, died at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at the Milner hotel.

Mr. Kabakoff had been in poor health for several years and had been under a physician's treatment for a heart ailment recently. When he did not report for work Saturday morning at the Fair grounds, H. G. Bowen went to the hotel and discovered that he had died a short time before Mr. Bowen's arrival.

Dr. Charles Gordon Stauffacher, coroner, was called to the hotel and after making an investigation, stated that death was due to a heart attack and that no inquest would be held.

Mr. Kabakoff is survived by a daughter, Shirley Kabakoff, Rochester, N. Y., and a half-brother, Nathan Coleman, Los Angeles, Calif.

Funeral services will be held at the Ewing Funeral home at 8:30 a.m. Sunday with Rabbi Abe Rosenthal officiating.

Following the services here, the body will be sent to Miami, Fla., for interment.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral home.

Fair Visitor, 89 Recalls Fair 40 Years Ago

John B. Wilkens, 89, who lives at 511 West Second was back at the Missouri State Fair this year and he agrees that it certainly does have that new look.

As he recalls, the only balloons that they had at the fair 40 years ago was the kind you ride on. They filled them with gas. Someone rode them up in the air and parachuted to safety. That was a main attraction at the fair. This year they told him they had a dangerous gal, Sally Rand, that was getting all the attention. But he was reinformed that it was fans, not balloons, and that she wasn't dangerous at all.

John B. Wilkens

Side Shows Scattered

They had side shows then, but they were scattered all over the grounds instead of being in one certain spot. They didn't have any Offenhauser cars then so the big race of the fair consisted of horses pulling carts with high wooden wheels. The exhibits, which were much smaller both in size and quality, didn't display any 1,000 pound hogs either. He thinks that the livestock has made a vast improvement and that the machinery exhibits are wonderful compared with the horse-drawn machinery in the past.

In those days, John recalls, they got up early to drive to the fair in a spring wagon. They brought their lunch, stayed all day and thoroughly enjoyed it.

Wilkens lived on a farm six miles south of Sedalia until last year when his wife died on their 61st wedding anniversary and he moved to town to live with his daughter, Mrs. Forrest Baker. He was a well known breeder of Shorthorn cattle in that area.

John has three daughters, Mrs. Herman Cordes, Spring Fork, Mo.; Mrs. Ralph Milburn, Ionia, Mo., and Mrs. Forrest Baker, Sedalia. He also has three sons, Louis Wilkens, 1412 South Missouri; John Wilkens, 410 East Fourth, and Carl Wilkens, route 1, Sedalia.

Wilkens, who came to the fair Friday despite the rain, thinks that the Missouri State Fair officials and all those responsible, should be commended on the great improvement that has been made in the fair during the past 40 years. Incidentally, he is looking forward to seeing the fair again next year.

Hindu Gods "Appeased" In Ceremony

SINGAPORE (AP)—Three Hindu Gods were appeased by a sacred bath in milk and coconut water at dawn in the Sivan temple here.

"Siva" and "Ganesa" and "Subramanya" were disturbed by thieves who looted the temple during the Japanese occupation. The Kumbabhishekam (purification) ceremony lasted four days and included non-stop chanting. Old men and women filled brass pots with the holy water which flowed over the dieties.

Pete Reid, Carrollton, was the auctioneer.

Carl R. Armentrout is the supervisor of the Norborne chapter and Donald Vantrump is president. There are 36 members in the organization.

Have Recruiting Exhibits

The United States Air Force and Army combined this year at the Missouri State Fair to present one large recruiting exhibit. The National Guard was also represented in the display by M/Sgt. Jack Meyers from the 35th division headquarters in Sedalia.

The personnel for the exhibit was: Sgt. William Wilson, who was head of the display, and three women who represented the women's Army and Air Force. They were: Cpl. Ellen Hall WAC, Cpl. Margie Smith WAF and Sfc. June Ferrell all of Kansas City.

In front of the tent exhibit the National Guard displayed a cannon and the Air Force a motor from a D-47. In the tent small fire arms from both services, including machine guns rifles and bazookas, were displayed.

Sgt. Wilson explained that the staff at the exhibit would make arrangements for enlistment if any of the young men who came to the tent were interested, but that whether or not they were thinking about enlisting they were always welcome to visit at the tent and inspect the articles on display.

The recruit office at the Post Office building will reopen next Wednesday.

The United States Marines and Navy both have recruiting exhibits at the Missouri State Fair this year which include the various fire arms used in both branches.

At both exhibits the personnel is distributing literature on the work and opportunities of their section of the armed services and are explaining the ranks, salaries and technical jobs available.

At the navy display the certain type small guns used aboard ships are on exhibit and these displays are being visited not only by interested youths but also by gun enthusiasts and veterans who used the guns while in service.

Always on hand at the displays are service personnel who are ready to answer any questions asked and to advise on entrance into the services.

Fair Hospital Treats 484 In Eight Days, To Establish Record

Record-breaking crowds at the State Fair this year also brought a record number of patients admitted to the State Fair hospital. Up until 9:00 p. m. Saturday, August 25th the hospital had treated 484 patients which was 198 over 1950 admittance of 286.

With the remainder of Saturday's number admitted and all day Sunday the number was expected to run well over 550. In 1949 the number admitted was 398, which was then the record.

The hospital has treated a number of different ailments among which were—fractures, malaria, laceration, eye burns, heat attacks, scalds, infections, sprains, asthma, exhaustion, fainting spells hemorrhages and one case of ptomaine poison. This case was the first and only case of the entire week.

Saturday about 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Ray Luke, whose address was not available, suffered a heart attack on the fair grounds. She was released later in the afternoon to return to her home.

J. H. Brown Manages Fair's Ticket-Takers For 7th Year

J. H. Brown and son, Donald, 715 South Kentucky, managed the state-paid ticket-takers at the Cetlin and Wilson shows this year. This year's carnival required 50 ticket-takers, all Missouri boys and mostly Sedalians.

Mr. Brown has managed the ticket-takers for the past seven years. His duties include giving the boys assignments, keeping the boys alert as well as being courteous.

BIRTHS

Son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris Meuschke, of Kansas City, at 4:40 a. m. Saturday. Weight: Seven pounds, four ounces. Mr. Meuschke is the son of Mrs. Lois Harris Meuschke, 618 West Broadway.

Seaman Marvin D. Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Carter, 502 West Johnson, who was home on his first furlough since enlisting in the Navy over a year ago has returned to Virginia.

While he was home a family reunion was held which was attended by the following brothers and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Liddell of Los Angeles, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Damon T. Carter of Bakersfield, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Kermit R. Bookes and son, Jerald of Coffeyville, Kas., Mr. and Mrs. Melvin M. A. Burt and children, Bonneta, and Melvin of Kansas City Kas. Two brothers could not attend.

Miss Rand Befuddles Local Photographer

Sally Rand recently displayed her ability to create furor. The past week a local business establishment installed an expensive piece of machinery and the factory representatives remarked he would like to have a picture of Miss Rand with the machine, to run in his trade magazine, which is sent all over the world.

A well-known local photographer was contacted to take the picture and was thrilled over the idea of getting to photograph Miss Rand. Miss Rand and four beautiful girls from the Raynell Show on the Cetlin-Wilson midway of the Missouri State Fair grounds made a special trip, dressed in their ballet attire, to the business house and the photographer notified.

The girls were placed on the machine, Miss Rand sat in front of it, the photographer climbed upon a table, stood on the floor and shot a number of pictures with a wide grin. An amateur photographer also got in on the deal, but he won't know until his pictures come back whether they will be good or not, because they are color film.

The well-known photographer about an hour later expressed his embarrassment by calling the establishment and notified them "I didn't get a picture. I shot a picture recently on another shutter and forgot to change over for this picture."

The "boss" of the establishment was notified and he only replied, "Well you can tell Miss Rand she still has IT, when she can get a photographer all out of adjustment."

Republican Party Has Display At State Fair

The annual Republican Party display at the State Fair is located directly west of the Administration Building.

In the display several officials are always on duty to pass out information on the work of the party and to visit with those who come to see the exhibit.

The tent in which the exhibit is housed is provided with several chairs in which the fair-goers may rest. Fresh drinking water is always kept on hand.

The arrangements for the display were in charge of Miss Rose Leibbrand.

Thieves Rob A Drug Store, US Sub-Station

A break-in, which is believed to have been carried out by several Sedalia youths, occured at the East End Drug Store and Postal sub station, 503 South Engineer, some time after 9:15 p. m. Friday.

The break in was reported to the police Saturday morning after the store was opened. It was found entrance was gained through a window which was reported left open.

The thieves took $1.50 in change which was in a drawer at the postal station and about $30.00 from a pin-ball machine, which had been damaged.

M. L. Edwards, postal inspector, was notified and with the local police and the highway patrol made an investigation Saturday morning.

Edwards stated that, "several clues as to the identity of the theives have been found, but in fear of jeopardizing the investigation they could not be made public as yet."

During the investigation finger prints were taken and other tests were made at the postal station.

Beverage Firm Tries To Convince Moslems Of Product's Purity

CAIRO, Aug. 25 — (AP) — The Pepsi Cola bottling plant here is trying to convince Egyptians its product contains neither pork juice nor alcohol.

Pork and alcoholic beverages are forbidden to Moslems.

Pepsi Cola called a news conference tonight to counter rumors printed in the local extremist and nationalist press and spread by word of mouth in the last month.

The campaign has been enlarged to include Coca Cola. The drinks are lumped by the leftwing press as "Jewish-Imperialist Beverages."

Company officials in Cairo declined to give figures on sales losses but one told a reporter it is "a serious matter."

REENACTING PAST—Capt. Raymond Harvey, Medal of Honor winner, dressed for Korean winter scene, has dual role of actor and technical adviser in film, "Fix Bayonets."

Boy's Trust In His Mother Saves His Life

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25—(AP)—George Eckert, 2½-year-old, is alive and safe tonight because he trusted his mother and did what she told him.

Otherwise he might still be at the bottom of an 18-inch-wide 25-foot deep abandoned gas well shaft where he spent 45 minutes today.

George and his father were walking their dog near their Sewickley Heights township home when the boy suddenly vanished.

"I couldn't see George anywhere," said the father, James Eckert. "By the grace of God, I looked through the brush and weeds and saw a hole. I couldn't see George but I could hear him calling me. I yelled for help."

The boy's mother, Agnes Eckert, responded, learned what had happened and ran back home for her clothes line.

"I kept pleading with God to save my boy," she said. "I ran as fast as I could."

The parents couldn't pull him out. When they got him up a few feet the rope would slip from the boy's tiny hands.

The father made a noose. Mrs. Eckert lowered it down the hole, talking softly to George:

"Put it over your head, Darling. Drop it under your arms. Now hold up your arms."

A moment later, George called up:

"Okay, Mommy, I'm all ready. Pull me up."

And up he came.

Hadacol Stock Sold; Price Near 10-Million

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 25—(AP)—Dudley J. LeBlanc who eight years ago stirred his output of "Hadacol" in a barrel, today sold his fabled patent medicine and indicated he received about $10,000,000 for it.

Leblanc, combination state senator and medicine man in his native Louisiana, announced the sale here while on tour with his Hadacol caravan of entertainers.

"Couzin Dud" as his french-speaking neighbors call him in Lafayette, La., said in a statement he had sold his "dietary supplement" to a group of eastern financiers and business men.

Innocent Cough Brings Trouble To Englishman

NELSON, England, Aug. 25—(AP)—An innocent cough caused Harry Ongham to lose his false teeth, stop a train, and fork over £2-11 shillings ($7.14) in court costs.

Vacationing Harry told a judge today the cough was "innocent" but so violent he had to lean out the train window and gasp for air. His teeth fell out. He pulled an emergency cord and stopped the train. He recovered his teeth from the tracks, but a railway policeman arrested him.

A sympathetic magistrate dismissed the charge of unlawfully pulling an emergency cord, told Harry he could continue on his vacation, but ordered him to pay the court costs.

Delegates of GOP Increased

Is 105 More Than For Convention Held in 1948

By D. Harold Oliver

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—(AP)—The Republican national convention in 1952 would have 1,199 delegates, an increase of 105 over 1948, under a tentative computation.

The research division of the Republican National Committee has worked out the tentative apportionment of delegates, subject to minor change later.

The increase of 105 is due to the doubling—from 3 to 6—of the delegate bonus for states which went Republican in the 1948 presidential election or, failing that, elected a Republican senator or governor in 1950. States not holding a senatorial election in 1950 would get the bonus if they elected a GOP Senator in 1948 while casting their electral vote for the Democrats—as in Massachusetts.

If the total of 1,199 delegates is not changed—the final decision will be made in December or January—a majority of 600 votes will be needed to nominate a presidential candidate.

The Democratic National Committee has already definitely fixed and made public its party convention total of 1,230 delegates, or four less than in 1948. A majority of 616 will be necessary for a nomination.

Be Chosen In March

Delegates will be chosen starting next March. They are named in preliminaries and state and district conventions. In a few states, all or some of the delegates are picked by state party committees. Delegates at large are selected on a statewide basis like Senators and Representatives - at - large. Others are named by congressional districts.

Both parties apportion their delegates basically the same—two for each Senator and Representative to which a state is entitled. But their number of bonus delegates differ. Also, the Republicans—aiming at building up their party in the south—require a congressional district to poll 1,000 votes for their candidate in the previous Presidential or House election in order to get one district delegate. To be allotted two such delegates, a district must poll 10,000 votes. The Democrats have no such provision.

Both parties in allotting 1952 convention delegates will take into account the reapportionment of representatives because of the population shifts shown in the 1950 census. Seven states gained an aggregate of 14 house seats and nine states lost 14.

The Republicans will take away delegates from those states losing House seats but the Democrats will not. Both parties will allow delegate gains to states gaining House seats.

The Democrats will allow their normal bonus of four delegates at large for each state which cast its electoral vote in 1948 for President Truman. They do not award this bonus to states staging a comeback in the 1950 senatorial or gubernatorial elections, as do the Republicans.

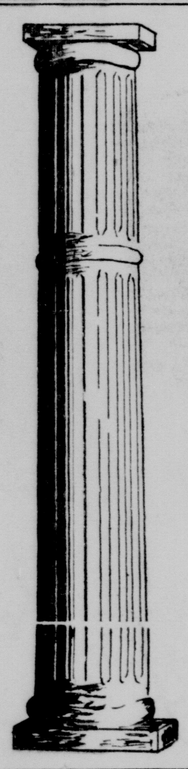

Thus, the Democrats arrive at their 1952 delegate total at four less than 1948 in this manner: They pick up 28 delegates through the states gaining 14 House seats and do not take away a similar number from the states losing House memberships. But they lose a net 32 bonus delegates due to failure of states which had supported the Democratic Presidential ticket in 1944 to do so in 1948.

Hot Storage Houses Recommended For Tobacco

RALEIGH, N. C.—(AP)—Although aromatic tobacco is sun-cured, growers can reduce the chances of damage to the leaf by adding some heat to their buildings during periods of bad weather, says Roy H. Crouse, agronomy specialist for the State College Extension Service.

When damp weather occurs, says Crouse, the heat in buildings housing curing racks should be kept at 90 to 100 degrees. In this way the curing process can be continued in the barn and the chances of damaging tobacco through molding or barn-scald will be reduced.

More Paid For College Knowledge-Grants Rise

By David Taylor Marke
AP Education Reporter

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—(AP)—Joe College is paying 400 per cent more for his higher education than he did 50 years ago—and the end is not in sight.

Col. Clarence E. Lovejoy, educational consultant and author, says "tuition, dormitory room, board, various kinds of fees, have been increased in some institutions as many as three times since World War II .

Trustees, proxies and college comptrollers don't like to call it spiraling inflation, but point out colleges require more funds to operate with increased salary sales, increased cost of fuel and maintenance and new departments.

Trends in college costs might scare prospective students, Lovejoy said in an interview, except for the fact that even as costs have mounted so has the number of scholarship grants.

"This has become a nation of college goers," Lovejoy emphasized. "The congressional enactments we know as the GI Bill of Rights have brought college-going into thousands of families that before the war felt unable to afford even high school education for their youngsters. With this new found amibtion to get education for careers and vocations these families are more than willing to find the added costs somehow."

Lovejoy points out that "50 years ago students needed only $400 or $500—even $350 for a year's expenses at some of the best colleges. Today those same institutions average $1,800 or more. College fees have been going up constantly although there is a genuine movement to try to level off. Families cannot absorb cuch more than they now must pay."

No Longer Solicit Gifts

Colleges no longer are able to solicit annual alumni gifts on grounds they are providing education far below cost.

"That was a good gimmick for fund raisers once, say in the 1930's. Today higher fees have overtaken costs and sometimes passed these, producing surpluses and profits," he says. "Tuition fees alone have become higher than total annual costs including room, board and incidentals a few years ago."

Tuition at M. I. T. is $800; at Barnard, $814; at Smith, $850. Goddard, a small progressive college in Vermont which has the comprehensive fee system is raising this from $1,400 to $1,750.

Sarah Lawrence college is raising its comprehensive fee this summer from $2,187 to $2,281.

Vassar, which today charges a tution of $675 for day students and a comprehensive fee for tuition, room and board of $1,600 (without incidentals) was charging $400 a year for tuition, board and "washing" back in its 1899-1900 academic year.

Hardly a week passes, said Lovejoy, that one or more institutions do not announce new hikes in college tuitions. Although Columbia's tuition is $620, the tuition for the school of optometry was raised to $1,000 the other day.

Recall Good Old Days

Grandfathers and grandmothers can remember those "good old days" at the turn of the century. Here's what a half century has done to college costs:

In 1899 tuition at Princeton was $160 a year. It is now $600 plus $100 for fees. Room cost then was $30. Today, it is up to $175.

Northwestern University students in 1900-01 were promised a whole year of institutional costs for as "low" as $220, an average year was estimated at $320.

Today, Northwestern costs $1,500 a year.

Harvard broke down its costs into four grades, low, average, high and very high, back around 1907, with $454 for average.

Harvard tuition today has been increased to $600 and says Lovejoy, a four year program at Harvard costs $7,240.

At New Haven, Yale students of 50 years ago spent an average of $545 yearly. Today, a modest year at Yale would cost nearly $1,800 with average incidentals.

NYU authorities calculated that a half century ago annual costs ranged from $336 to $498. Today, a four year education on a residential basis would cost $7,092. A Columbia student spent between $387 and $829 50 years ago compared with $1,600 yearly today.

At some institutions, says Lovejoy, students still pay for their education "in kind."

"At the compulsory work colleges all students, rich or poor, ar required to contribute 12 or 15 hours of work a week. Students get abatements and reductions of college costs in exchange for their work, a plan that is in effect at Blackburn, Park, Berea and Bervy colleges."

Concluding, Lovejoy said, "America has been called the land of opportunity. The American oclege exemplifies this clearly, Even if fees and campus costs are higher, there are thousands of scholarships, thousands of part-time jobs and millions in loan funds.

"Teen-agers no longer whine, 'I can't afford to go to college.' Their attitude is an optimistic, confident 'I'll get along somehow. I can't afford not to go.' They have their eye on the competition ahead for jobs, professions and careers."

James F. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett C. Cooper, route 2, Sedalia, has completed basic training at Great Lakes and after a 15-day leave at home has gone to Norfolk, Va., where he will be stationed.

Orphans Have 300 Mothers

LEVITTOWN, N. Y.—(AP)—The 120 boys of far-away St. Anthony's Orphanage in famine ridden India aren't orphans any more—they now have 300 friendly foster-mothers.

Three hundred housewives, members of the Rosary Confraternity of St. Bernard's Roman Catholic church in this postwar suburban community, "adopted" the youngsters in response to an appeal for aid from the director of the orphanage in Alleppey, India. Each housewife will buy an extra package of food on her weekly shopping tour. The food will be collected and shipped to the orphanage once a month.

Those present were the honorees Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson and Hope of Fort Worth, Texas, parents and sister of Miss Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hunter and the Rev. R. Von Kemp.

Bridal Shower For Miss Thomas

Mrs. Undrill Renshaw and Mrs. John Welch entertained last week at the home of Mrs. Renshaw, 1208 Liberty Park boulevard, with a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Velma Thomas whose approaching marriage to Mr. Robert Leo will be September 1.

Little Miss Kay Romig, in her colonial lavender organdy dress, presented Miss Thomas with a miniature wedding bouquet of white stephanotis with white satin braided ribbons forming the shower. Tied to each of these ribbons were verses very cleverly written where the shower gifts were hidden throughout the house.

The dining table was covered with a white lace cloth, centered with a three-tier bridal cake with tiny colonial bouquets of white stephanotis lined with silver lace doilies around the cake and white tapers on either side, which was very attractive. The cake knife bore a white satin bow.

After the bride-to-be cut the cake, molded bride and bridegroom ice cream with individual cakes of pastel shades and pastel bonbons were served to the following:

Miss Thomas, her mother Mrs. C. W. Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Cannaday, Mrs. Allen Porter, Mrs. J. M. Stott, Mrs. Harlan Smith, Mrs. George Brady, Mrs. Ralph Waters, Mrs. Margaret Clark, Mrs. George Mein, Mrs. Harry Stockton, Mrs. R. C. Williamson, Mrs. Jack Wood, Mrs. D. A. Couple Married In Butler

Miss Willa Dean Herrmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Herrmann of Butler and Clifford Dale Everets, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Everts, southeast of Knob Noster, were married at 8 p. m., Saturday evening, August 11, in Butler, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Faust A. Matthews. The double ring ceremony was used.

The bride wore a street lenght, navy blue crepe dress and her corsage was of red rosebuds.

Her cousin, Mrs. C. G. Smith of Butler was matron of honor. She wore a dark green dress and her corsage was of white carnations.

Mr. Smith served as best man.

The bride was graduated from Ballard high school and completed two years at Central Missouri State college in Warrensburg. She will teach upper grades at Passaic school this fall.

Mr. Everts attended Knob Noster high school and will be employed in Butler.

The couple went on a week's wedding trip to Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming. The couple are now residing at Butler.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herrmann entertained at dinner at their home in Butler Sunday. Those from Knob Noster who attended were, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Everets and son Leroy and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Everts.

Picnic At Monsees Home

Over 70 people met at 7:00 p.m. August 19 at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Monsees, five miles south on highway 65.

Bill and Cecil Monsees were hosts to the members of the Farm House fraternity, their parents and friends who meet annually the first Sunday of the Missouri State Fair.

The agriculture college students, who are members of the Farm House fraternity attend the fair then meet at a fellow member's home and have a picnic.

Better Homes Club Meeting

The Better Homes Club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ellis Glenn with eight members present and one visitor, Mrs. Willie DeWitt.

The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Walter Eads, and roll call was answered by telling "Some place I'd like to visit."

A talk on health was given by Mrs. Walter Eads.

After the hostess opened her gifts refreshments were served.

The September meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mary Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Dramann, center, who were married June 30 in Kansas City, Mo., and their attendants Miss Mary Lou Lane of Sedalia and Mr. Raymond E. Dramann. The bride is the former Miss Thelma Jean Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Campbell of Windsor. Mr. Dramann is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dramann of Kansas City, Kas.

Red Cross Corner

Although it is proverbial that the American Red Cross does not solicit and does not exact thanks in any form, or for any service, it is also proverbial that an expression of thanks is a heart warming thing indeed. That is why we talked the office and the Blood Chairman into giving us a certain letter to reproduce in our column-a very gracious letter and a welcome one. From the nurse operating with the Blood Unit so recently here in Sedalia, it is addressed to Mrs. Arthur Studebaker: "Dr. Parker, the staff and I would like to say 'Thanks again' for everything you and your wonderful staff of volunteers did for us on our recent visit. Tell the Canteen who prepared our delicious meals that I think they are spoiling my staff. It was all very good, and thoughtful of you to plan it for us. We are all looking forward to our return visit in November." We hope that Sedalia and Pettis county are loking forward to that visit also. Maybe in November we can do better than our quota and make up for the August fiasco. We'll hope so anyway.

Our very sincere thanks to P. A. Sillers for the grand cooperation in the mater of the Red Cross swimming classes at the Liberty park pool. His work and that of Henry Sutton, Water Safety chairman, and Judy Yeaman, our instructor, and life guards, have made the past summer a memorable one. The swimming instruction had a grand finale with the Water Carnival, which drew a good crowd. This carnival was so successful that it will probably become an annual event.

New Unit Forming

A new unit of the very famous and ever necessary Red Cross Canteen service will begin classwork the week of September 10. Anyone interested in becoming a new member may register now. Call 618.

The Red Cross booth at the Missouri State Fair was well attended and brought in many complimentary remarks as to its attractiveness and effectiveness. The assisting volunteers were: Mrs. A. F. Scott, Mrs. A. A. Studebaker, Mrs. Herbert Seifert, Mrs. George Dryden, Mrs. Abe Rosenthal, Mrs. Mary Houston, Mrs. Georgia Holbrook, Mrs. Tom Yount, and Mrs. Lawrence Wolf.

Don't forget the Flood Relief Drive. A slogan has been adopted: "Give your disaster dollar to help meet human needs." We are still short our quota and are anxious to go over the top. A man in the Russian occupied zone of Germany heard about the Missouri-Kansas disaster, and smuggled through five marks to be sent to the fund. Some going for a person behind the Iron Curtain. We are grateful to our contributors, but we need more money. Have you given anything yet?

Letters From Germany

The Red Cross office has just received another consignment of letters from German children in the occupied zones. A note from the Area Office explains that all translations are done by volunteers, and that is why the letters take so long to reach the chapters. We have one in the office now that has not been translated. Will some one in Sedalia or the county who reads German volunteer to translate this letter, and subsequent ones? If such a service would be volunteered then we could get our answers much sooner. If you could translate this letter, it is available at the Red Cross office, 112 West 4th Street. There will be others, too. Here is one of the recent consignments: "To the pupils of Quisenberry School. I would like to thank you, especially the children who helped to fill the package. I was very happy when I received it at the Christmas party at Junior Red Cross. My name is Renate Grass and I am eight years old. I have two sisters, Hannelore and Grete. Hannelore is twelve years old, and Grete is ten years. We have had a very heavy frost and so we go skating nearly every day. Do you have much snow? I am in the third grade, but I am sorry we have not learned English yet. I like to play most of all with my dolls. Now I am going to stop because I still have to do some homework. Sincere greetings, Renate."

Exhibit Made By Democrats

Located just south of the Educational Building is the annual State Fair exhibit of the state Democratic party committee.

Along the side of the wall are pictures of the various national and state Democratic officials such as President Harry S. Truman; Vice President Albin Barkley; United States Senator Thomas C. Hennings; Gov. Forrest Smith; Lt. Gov. James Blair, Jr.,; Secretary of State Walter H. Toberman; State Auditor Will H. Holmer; and Attorney General J. E. Taylor.

All of these with the exception of the president and vice president have visited the exhibit this week with most of them there on Wednesday. Secretary of Treasury Snyder also visited there Wednesday.

Chairs have been placed in the tent in which visitors may rest while reading some of the literature which is also available at the exhibit.

Several large barrels of water are located in the tent and there are always several ladies on hand to answer any questions the visitors might offer.

Serving as a reception committee at the exhibit on Friday were the following four women from Attorney General's office were: Mrs. Margaret Freeman, Mrs. Richard Dunn, Miss Arlene Norfleet and Mrs. Byron Tout.

Picnic By Royal Neighbors

Violet Samp 607 Royal Neighbors of America had their annual picnic August 13 at Liberty Park.

A fried chicken dinner was served to a large crowd.

F. Wasson.

Club Plans For Achievement Day

The regular meeting of the La Monte 4-H club was held at the home of Bobby Reavis August 15, with the secretary, Mary Louise Gregory, presiding.

The club plans to have an Achievement Day on August 28 with the club having an exhibit in the window of Jerry's Snack Bar until school starts.

The acting president appointed two committees, one to get transportation for a hayride on August 31 and the second a nominating committee. The first committee is composed of Jackie Gregory and Gene Kindle and the second, Susan Wade and Rita Jackson.

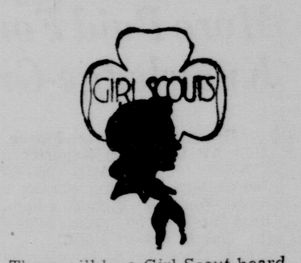

The club leader, Mrs. Edward Gregory asked the club members to start filling out their project reports.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Lovell Reavis.

There were 13 members and two visitors present.

An election of officers will be held at the next meeting which will be held at the home of Bobby Jo Burke, September 19.

There will be a Girl Scout board meeting on Saturday September 1, in the Girl Scout office at 10 a.m. All board members are urged to be present.

There will be a picnic at the camp site on Sunday September 9th. The afternoon activities will start at 4:30 and the basket dinner will be held at 5:30. We urge everyone in Sedalia who is interested in Girl Scouting to attend this day of fun. Camp Sakajawea is located 2½ miles southwest of Sedalia. There will be signs along the way to show you the way so just follow highway 65 until you see the signs. Anyone not having transportation please call Mrs. John Bowman 5645.

Girl Scouts had fun at the fair but they did their share of volunteer work too. Barbara Grady, Barbara Black, Nancy Harned, Maurine Hoffman, Carolee Harned, Pat Korand, Sara Harned and Nancy Vaughan registered people who wished to have x-rays made of their lungs.

Rebekahs To Have Picnic

All members of the Rebekah's sewing club are exjected to attend a picnic which will be held Wednesday at 12:00 o'clock noon at Liberty park.

A luncheon will be served and all members are to bring a covered dish, sandwiches and their own service.

To make a separate dining area in your kitchen have the handy man build a divider about 3 feet high and 6 inches wide and a suitable length for the room. This could be made from scrap lumber and covered with wallboard. Paper or paint sides to harmonize with rest of the room. Cut bamboo fishing poles a little longer than the length from the top of the divider to the ceiling. Now drill holes in the divider and ceiling the size to make the poles fit tight. You can space the poles to suit yourself; 6 inches is a good distance between the poles.

PICK YOUR COLORS FOR FALL

and be sure they are right for you. Grey is making a terrific comeback in the smoke shades. Try on these deep shades and if you find they aren't good next to your face then add a bit of color someplace to brighten your costume. Deep plum suits both in gabardine and mixtures are wonderful for a lot of you with greying hair. For others who can wear a true purple, then by all means have a knitted dress or light weight suit because it is beautiful and under a smoke grey coat it is just right. Shades of brown of course, are good and you can find striking combinations in this warm color. Don't wear yourself out shopping for black now, it hasn't been in the front row for a long time and still isn't. Wear colors and smart combinations . . . yes, use black accessories often but not black dresses, coats and suits!

Plot in a Movie Brawl Be Shifted

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26—(AP)—This week's news in Hollywood produced another nightlife brawl, but this one was different.

It concerned a young actor who was given a beating by three assailants. But the actor later surprised everyone by admitting that he couldn't remember what he had done and suggesting he might even have deserved the lacing.

This set a new record for candor in Hollywood news. This extraordinary frankness could start a trend. Who knows? We might even be treated to such news events as these:

Clyde Cut-up, the clever comic, is aboard a crowded airliner zooming across the Atlantic. As the plane nears Ireland, it develops engine trouble and the passengers are panicked by the chance of a crash.

So does Clyde stand on his seat and calm the others by snappy jokes. Not on your life. He cowers in a corner, mumbling "I'm too young to die!" . . .

Minerva Mango, the glamor queen, announces that her contract with her studio is at an end. But she doesn't claim that she asked out of her contract because she wasn't earning enough money. Oh, no. She calmly remarks:

"They fired me. It seems my pictures weren't making any money." . . .

Renee Rancid, the dramatic star, announces an end to her marriage, long considered "Hollywood's most perfect match." And is she still "the best of friends" with her ex-husband?

"Don't be ridiculous," she snarls. "I hate the bum." . . .

Bernard Barefoot, the boy producer, creates a picture which does poor business at the box office. Asked for an explanation, he does not assert that it hit the market at the wrong time or that it was no good for the public or that the stars were not drawing well.

"It stinks," he shrugs. . . .

Egbert Egghead, the matinee idol, chases off to Pismo Beach with a starlet and issues the news that he is going to marry her as soon as he can get a divorce. Reporters rush to his wife, who married him when he was a bus boy and mothered his seven children.

Does the little lady sigh and utter, "If that's what Egbert wants, I'll give it to him?"

Not on your life. She snaps, "Okay she can have him, but I'm taking every cent he's got!" . . .

Herman Heartbeat, the perennial juvenile and Gloria Glugg, the longtime starlet, have been what the gossip columnists call "a torrid twosome" for five and a half years. Finally, someone asks Gloria why they don't get married.

She doesn't reply that they're "just good friends" or that they "don't want to rush into a Hollywood marriage." She remarks flatly, "I can't talk the shmo into it." . . .

These stories could happen in Hollywood. But — sigh — they undoubtedly won't. Perhaps it is just as well. The shock might be too great for the Hollywood press corps.

Looking Backward

Forty Years

Six frame business houses on the main street of Knob Noster, all owned by W. C. Kanus burned. They were occupied by a pool hall, barber shop, another pool hall, poultry house, shoe shop and one was empty.

Charles O'Donnell, a former Sedalian, now in the publishing business in New York, made a visit here after a trip to the Pacific coast.

Hugh N. Fitzgerald editor of the Times-Herald at Dallas, Tex., was visiting Judge U. F. Short and family.

Prof. A. Ross Hill, president of the University of Missouri, was a guest of Charles E. Yeater at the Sedalia Country club.

In a publication of one of the newspapers of Missouri appeared under a 75-Years-Ago column, an article stating that a Sedalia dispatch says Hobbs Kerry, the train robber, was brought there from Boonville yesterday and upon promise of immunity, confessed the details of the robbery of the train near Otterville. He said that besides himself, others who were engaged in the robbery were Clel Miller, Frank and Jesse James, Cole and Bud Younger, Charles Pitts and William Caldwell.

Polio-Delayed Altar Date Kept

The former Bernice Montgomery, 29, paralyzed from chine to toes by polio five years ago, walks from the altar on the arm of her husband, Dr. Bradford Davis, 38, Worcester, Mass., after their wedding in Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 23. They had planned to marry shortly after the end of World War II but her affliction an dsubsequent fight to walk interfered. Davis, a chiropodist, gave up practice for awhile, selling shoes in Tulsa to be near his fiancee. Although she uses crutches sparingly, Mrs. Davis walked unsupported to the altar. (AP Wirephoto)

Shower is Given By Victory Club

The Victory club met with Mrs. Albert Shane Thursday, August 16 with 11 members present and one visitor, Mrs. Blanche Schoeder. The day was spent patching and embroidering tea-towels. The club members also had a shower for Mrs. Oliver Lewis.

The club plans to have their ice cream party at Mrs. Dale Cramer's home on the evening of September 1.

The next meeting is to be September 22 with Neoma Phillips.

Woman Fractures Arm In Fall At Fair Grounds

Mrs. Mattie Phelps, 74, 520 East 11th, fell at the State Fair Friday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock and suffered a fractured left arm.

She was given emergency treatment at the Fair hospital and taken to the Bothwell hospital in the Gillispie ambulance.

Mrs. Phelps' daughter, Mrs. Ruby E. Williams, with whom Mrs. Phelps lives, said that she received the fracture when she slipped and fell on the steps of the Fine Arts building.

She was treated at the Bothwell hospital by Dr. D. P. Dyer.

Three Dockmen Killed In Seattle Explosion

SEATTLE, Aug. 24—(AP)—A shell in a scrap metal cargo from the Philippines exploded and killed three men in a Seattle waterfront blast today.

Three others were injured.

The blast was at the Ames Terminal company yard, on the west Duwamish waterway. Workmen said the blast occurred while powder remanants were being burned from the inside of the shells with acetylene torches.

A foreman at the scene told Deputy Coroner James Pmadams the "primer" charge apparently had been left in the shell that exploded.

Oil Man's Widow Charged

Mrs. Thomas W. Doswell, 52, is shown at police headquarters Aug. 23, as she surrendered on charge of murder in the death of her wealthy oil man husband in Dallas, Tex. Doswell was fataally shot at the entrance of a fashionable hotel. She told police the revolver discharged accidentally as she attempted to remove it wrapped in a towel from the glove compartment of their car. (AP Wirephoto)

Divorce Is Petitioned

A petition for divorce was filed in the Circuit clerk's office Saturday morning by Mrs. Barbara F. Brown against Nathan L. Brawn, city alderman from the second ward.

The petition states the couple was married July 17, 1946 and they separated in June of 1951. The plaintiff alleges general indignities. She also asks care and custody of the two minor children.

Attorney for the plaintiff is John T. Martin.

Folks, Dick Battles does it again!

Our 3rd Anniversary

Eighteen years ago, Dick Battles started a business on West Main Street, and (with your help) boosted it to one of the largest and most dependable firms in Central Missouri.

Just three years ago, Dick originated the West Side Variety at 718 West 16th Street and because of your real friendship and patronage this firm is growing consistently on this, our third anniversary. The West Side Variety not only serves residents of southwest Sedalia, but all Central Missouri. It is open from 9 a.m. 'til 9 p.m.

It isn't a "dime" store! It's a vest-pocket-size department store, jammed with quality merchandise at fair prices!

Its a store where you will feel "at home." No expensive chrome-trimmed fixtures; no glib salesmen; no superior feeling atmosphere . . . just a "neighborhood store" that is as modern as tomorrow!

Dick Battles feels that any local businessman who sticks his chin out . . . . and asks his neighbors and friends for their business, can get that business.

Dick Battles is sticking his chin out!

He wants to double his volume of business in 1951!

For 18 years, he has had the confidence of Central Missourians and Manufacturers, and wholesalers who make and supply quality merchandise.

One parting reminder . . . If anything you buy from the West Side Variety isn't good . . . Dick Battles will make it good!

(You 'teen-agers who are just starting "housekeeping" just ask Dad and Mother, if this isn't the old-fashioned policy of honesty that has kept Dick Battles in business?)

New Yorker Becomes Buddhist Monk

RANGOON—(AP)—The Rev. Zina Lawka was plain C. R. Bucklew of New York until he became a Buddhist monk one year ago. That was at Ceylon where he completed 12 months as a novitiate.

The 23-year-old New Yorker is now here to be ordained into the Burmese priesthood. He is shaven-headed, wears a saffron robe and walks barefooted around a Buddhist monastery in west Rangoon.

He told reporters he became interested in Buddhism in 1949 after studying Buddhist philosophy at the Dr. Rabindranath Tagore university, Calcutta.

Traffic Cases Up In Police Court

Seven overtime parking violaters forfeited $1.00 cash bonds in police court Saturday morning when they failed to appear.

Jess L. Green, 404 West Cooper pleaded guilty in the police court this morning to a charge of careless and reckless driving. He was fined $25.00 and costs by Police Judge Jerry Trotter.

Leroy Comer, 404 North Prospect, pleaded guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated and resisting arrest in police court. He was fined $50.00 for intoxicated driving, $25.00 for resisting arrest and made agreement to buy a new shirt for an officer whose shirt was torn in making the arrest.

Comer was represented by William F. Brown, his attorney.

Miss Covey Goes To New Mexico

Miss Betty Ann Covey, of Knob Noster, left Thursday morning for Portales, New Mexico, where she is educational director of the First Methodist church and also assistant Wesley Foundation director on the Eastern New Mexico University campus where she will live and do work on a masters degree.

She was accompanied on her trip by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Covey. En route they will go through the "Bad Lands" in South Dakota and will visit friends in Sidney, Nebr. They will visit their son and brother, Pfc. William D. Covey, who is stationed at Warren Air Base near Cheyenne, Wyo. They will visit friends in Denver and go through the National parks in Colo., and will visit friends in Alberquerque, Gallup and Ft. Sumner, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Covey will return to Knob Noster by train.

No Delinquent Tax Sale By The City

According to Paul Alpert, city collector, the city will not have a tax sale for delinquent property this year. This marks the first time in the five years that Alpert has been the city collector that all properties have all been redeemed before the sale. Sixteen were advertised.

The county has one tract of land to be sold. Eighteen were advertised and 17 have been redeemed.

The Sedalia Branch Celebrates 38th Year of Progress of Cook Paint Co.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 26—Today, members of the Cook Paint and Varnish Company are joining with the personnel of the 115 branch stores in celebrating the 38th anniversary of the founding of the company.

Founded by the late Charles R. Cook, the company has grown under his guiding principles from a small, single store operation to the largest paint manufacturing company in the midwestern area, with hundreds of independent dealer outlets.

Since the founding of the company, Cook's have restricted their products to those relating solely to decoration and protection of property. Due in part to the fact that paint chemicals react to climatic variations, the Cook Paint and Varnish Company is unique in that it varies its paint formulations to fit the wide range of weather conditions prevalent in each section of its territory—principally in the central and southwestern states.

In paints, there is a close relationship between the materials that go into the product and the wearing of that product. Realizing this, the Cook Paint and Varnish Company draws upon an amazing number of pigments and chemicals from every corner of the world, testing, analyzing, and selecting only the finest as fitting ingredients for its paint products which give maximum beauty and protection at a fair and reasonable price to the consumer. This is a basic guiding policy of the company.

Wallpaper, and Floor Coverings, too, play important roles in modern home decoration. A large part of every Cook Paint store is devoted to the display of hundreds of wallpapers, and attractive, hard-surfaced floor coverings, to give customers—in the areas served by the company—the most complete selection of any type, kind, or pattern.

Today, through its policy of carefully and exactingly supplying the colors and design desired by Cook customers, Cook's occupy the enviable position of being one of the largest distributors of wallpaper and floor covering in the world.

Cook's One of 6 Accepted Body Finish Manufacturers

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 26.—Cook Paint Company officials revealed today, that only 6 of America's more than 1,100 paint manufacturers produce body color finishes acceptable to automobile manufacturers.

In addition to these body color finishes, highly specialized steering wheel finishes, developed by Cook's research laboratories, are used exclusively to finish the steering wheel of almost every American-made automobile, truck, tractor and boat. Company officials emphasized that the same exacting care devoted to the manufacture of fine body color finishes, and steering wheel finishes, is a basic operating policy of the company and that every product manufactured by the company must be the best of its particular type—before it is released for consumer use.

A Tribute -- To Our School Teachers!

Today, as no time before in history, the school teacher is recognized as the builder of tomorrow's America! With juvenile delinquency increasing apace, and foreign ideologies creeping into our school books, it is high time that glowing tribute was paid to these patient men and women who instruct our young. Let's remember that teachers are human beings, not machines. Let's give them the support and confidence they so richly deserve. Let's attend P-T-A meetings and contribute something more than children. This community is fortunate in having such fine schools and outstanding educators. We applaud their work and their good American achievements.

Hampshire Swine

Both quality and numbers were pronounced good in the 1951 Missouri State Fair exhibit of Hampshires. Judge of the shows was Wesley Miller, Montpelior, Ohio.

Both champion and reserve champion hams of the "Cured meats show" were declared to have been cut from Hamps and will dbe acutioned in front of the grandstand Wednesday night.

Carl Tising, High Point, Mo., cured both hams. He has had champion cured meats at the Sedalia Fair many times in past years, and declares that the secert of good pork is selecting good well bred and well fed hogs for butchering and curing.

Col. C. S. (Pete) Reid, Carrollton, is superintendent of the swine department. Awards were as follows:

Living Cost at Peak in July

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24—(AP)—The cost of living hit an all-time peak in July on the government's measuring stick.

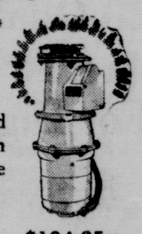

From June 15 to July 15, its index of costs to the moderate income family edged up 0.2 percentage points to 185.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average The old record was 185.4, reached in May.

The rise means one-cent an hour pay boost for nearly 1,000,000 workers in the automobile industry whose wage rates are tied by contract to the government index.

30 New Stock Autos Slated To Snarl Mile Oval Traffic At Fair's Final Speed Show

20 Qualifiers Are To Battle For Big Purse

Sunday afternoon traffic on the State Fair mile track will be snarled with 20 of the fastest new model automobiles ever to spin in a 100-mile race for cash and glory.

The bundle of cash amounts to more than $3,000, the glory comes in the form of coveted points toward 1951 national stock car racing honors. And the 20 cars will come from a field of more than 30 whose daredevil pilots will scramble to get their mounts in the starting lineup.

Most of the machines entered are 1949-1950-1951 models, with virtually all leading makes reprsented.

Lions to Run Scoreboard

Members of the Sedalia Lions club will operate the big "lap book" scoreboard on the stage in front of the grandstand.

In addition to Buchanan, the six entrants who have won at least one 1951 long distance stock car event are Art Combs, Emporia, Kas., who won the State Fair 100-lapper on the half-mile track last year; Eddie Anderson, Grinnell, Iowa; Bobby Tucker, Springfield, Mo.; Bob McKim, Salina, Kas.; Wally Dahl, Minneapolis and Bill Harrison, Topeka.

The scramble begins with the one-lap qualifying time trials, scheduled for 12:30 p.m.

The big race, 100 laps around the mile oval, is scheduled to begin at 2:30 o'clock.

No Driver Favored

As usual, there is no one top favored driver. Herschell Buchanan, the Sheveport traveling man who won 1950 IMCA national title honors,, will be among the would?be qualifiers with his 1951 Nash.

But there are six others who have also won important long distance motor marathons already this year. In addition, the amateur ranks are sending at least half a dozen contenders, any one of whom might emerge the winner in the wide open competition.

"Souping-Up" Not Permitted

No "souping" of the 1946-1952 models is permitted and the winning car will be impounded immediately following the race for inspection by a technical committee headed by Norman Thorpe, Moline, Ill., and Everett Edwards of Sedalia.

The complete entry:

Jerry Swinderman, Argyle, Iowa 1949 Ford.
W. J. Schreckler, Kansas City, 1951 Mercury.
Bob Bandy, Liberty, Mo., 1951 Chrysler.
Bill Relihan, Topeka, Kas., 1950 Ford.

Missouri Slips To Fifth Spot

Coaches' Poll Shows Sooners Pre-Season Big-7 Favorites

By Skipper Patrick

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 25—(AP)—Some 280 hopefuls, not including freshmen who are eligible for varsity play, will begin football practice at the Big Seven conference camps Thursday morning.

Coaches have declined naming their freshmen corps because they can't be counted "until they're enrolled," but at the start 1950 national champion Oklahoma, with Nebraska an outstanding contender, again appears class of the league.

Two-A-Day Workouts

Two-a-day workouts are scheduled around the circuit until the beginning of classes.

Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners lost his share of outstanding performers, but expects to have 18 lettermen, among them all-America tackle Jim Weatherall and ace halfback Billy Vessels, in a solid squad of 53 scheduled to report for work.

Nebraska, which gave Oklahoma a strong run for the title last fall, will again do its preliminary work at Curtis, Neb. The Cornhuskers, in their second season under coach Bill Glassford, will again count heavily on all America halfback Bobby Reynolds, but this time the squad will be faster and a bit deeper in manpower.

17 'Huskers Return

The Cornhuskers return 17 lettermen in a squad of 53.

Hardest hit by graduation and other losses is Missouri where Don Faurot will have only 10, possibly 9, lettermen in a 53-man squad.

It's the weakest squad, Faurot says, in his 25 years of college and university coaching. And rival coaches seem to agree—they placed Missouri fifth in their preseason poll.

Here's a rundown, subject to one or more changes at each school on opening work day, on the various teams as rated in the poll by the coaches:

Sooners' Weatherall Returns

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Chicago Pilot Paces Charges Over Dodgers

BROOKLYN, Aug. 25—(AP)—Phil Cavarretta, manager of the Chicago Cubs, personally conducted his charges to a 5 to 1 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers, in a game called in the eighth inning after an hour-long rainstorm.

The score reverted to the seventh inning, as the rains came with the Dodgers at bat in the last of the eighth. This cut a half game off the Brooklyn first place lead, leaving them seven games in front of the New York Giants, who were rained out across town in the Polo Grounds in a game with St. Louis.

The victory ended a six-game Chicago losing streak.

Cavarretta hoisted a home run, his fourth, over the right field wall into Bedford avenue in the second inning, scoring behind Eddie Miksis who had singled.

Manager Phil lined a single to center in the fifth inning to drive home Hank Edwards, who had walked, and Roy Smalley, who had singled.

Young Bob Kelly set down the league leaders with five hits, in taking his fifth victory against one defeat.

Erskine brought a seven-game streak in to the game, but was charged with his ninth loss against 14 victories.

Erskine gave way to a pinch hitter in the fifth after allowing seven hits, and Clem Labine came in to pitch the rest of the abbreviated game, allowing one hit.

Braves Take 3rd Place By Edging Cincy, 6-5

BOSTON, Aug. 25—(AP)—The Boston Braves won their sixth straight and took over third place in the National league standings as they defeated the Cincinnati Reds 6-5 today to sweep their three game series. The relief pitching of Bob Chipman and the hitting and speed of Sam Jethroe, who beat out three bunts and stole his 30th base, plus an 11 hit attack, featured.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yankees Show Champ's Form, Beating Tribe

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25—(AP)—The New York Yankees, fighting grimly to retain their American league championship, blasted Cleveland 7 to 3 today to climb to within one game of the league-leading Indians.

A crowd of 66,110 saw the Yankees, sparked by Gene Woodling and Mickey Mantle, club three Cleveland hurlers for 11 hits. As a result, here's how the teams stand:

	W	L	Pct.	GB
Cleveland	78	45	.634
New York	77	46	.626	1

Woodling whose bat has been smoking hot for the past week, smacked two singles and drove across three runs, while Mantle, recently recalled from Kansas City, smacked a tremendous two-run homer and a double.

Woodling, who now has 17 hits in his last 23 at bats, was intentionally walked in the ninth so that relief pitcher Steve Gromek could pitch to Joe DiMaggio.

This was the first time such a move ever has been used against DiMaggio, and the Yankee Clipper responded with a slashing single to drive home Phil Rizzuto with the New Yorkers' final run.

Rizzuto also figured prominently as the world champions took the rubber game of the vital three-game series. The tiny shortstop hit three singles and scored four times.

Ed Lopat was the winning pitcher, though unable to go the distance. Manager Casey Stengel removed the lefthander in the eighth inning when the Tribe threatened to slice the Yanks' 6-3 advantage. Allie Reynolds came in an squashed the rally.

Mike Garcia, burly righthander, went down to his ninth defeat, third time at the hands of the Yankees. He lasted only five innings and was withdrawn for a pinch-hitter while trailing, 6-1. Lou Brissie held the visitors scoreless for two frames and Gromek gave up the final tally in the ninth.

Now Cleveland, which only tow days ago held a three-game lead over the Yanks, faces a tough fight to win its first flag since 1948. The Indians entertain the Boston Red Sox in a doubleheader tomorrow, while the Yanks travel to Chicago for a twin-bill with the White Sox.

In September, Cleveland is on the road most of the time while the New Yorkers will be playing in the friendly confines of Yankee stadium.

Brownies Lose To A's Without Managing Fans

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns, without their grandstand managers, were no match for the Athletics today as Philadelphia defeated them 9 to 1. Gus Zernial batted in two of the A's runs, bringing to 110 the runs batted in for him this year, 37 of them against the Browns. The Browns downed the A's 5-3 last night with 1,115 fans making the decisions.

Sport Scraps

By D. Kelly Scruton

SMITH-COTTON high school's head football coach Ralph "Stub" Dow tries not to act optimistic when he is talking of grid prospects for his 1951 edition of Bengals, but if one talks long enough and asks enough, he leaves with the impression that S-C might come-up with a cracker-jack club this year.

Dow starts with, "Those seniors really left some holes in that line." Thereafter its tough to guess just what he is going to say. Then he goes on about Allcorn, Ford, Schulz, Walch and Dent who are back as linemen. The first four started several games.

In the backfield he seems content with the return of his first string quarterback Bill Arnold, halfbacks Floyd Burton and Richard Lanning, Bob Lane, David Lingle, and Bob England, all of whom saw a lot of action in '50.

He says his team this year will be bigger, but isn't sure, until he has proof, they'll be better.

When asked of the things that troubled him most he replied, "The T formation gives me a headache. I know how to use it on offense, but how to stop it is something that I have yet to learn. However, he went on, girls give me the most trouble by going out with my players when they should be home studying or getting the necessary rest."

According to the last statement Dow must believe his boys can win if they train properly.

AT Saturday's big car auto races, Frankie Luptow was somewhat irked over the fact that the feature race was going to be 15 miles instead of the scheduled ten. He made the statement, "Who do you thinks paying for this car." Maybe that was a hint that he had just a bit more money tied up in the Black Panther than the other drivers have in their cars. Anyway he didn't burn-up the powerful machine and again won at the State Fair.

OF the seven days of racing at the fair, none of the races have given the thrills the motorcycle contest provided. On the opening Saturday the 'cycle drivers were tossed from their machines eight times . . . The Grand Circuit races were hampered by a slow track two days and on the final scheduled day rain prevented the fastest horses at the fair from running.

Many reinsmen claimed the Sedalia track was not as fast as it was when the track records were set in 1949. Its hard to say what could have made the track slower, but it would not be hard to say that the horses entered didn't compare with Good Time, Egan Hanover, Miss Tilly, Alemite, or Bangaway of 1949 and 1950.

16 Dismissed Cadets Have Applied At N. D. For Free Education

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 25—(AP)—Four more dismissed West Point cadets applied today for admission to the University of Notre Dame, making 16 who are seeking free education offered at the school by an unidentified "very wealthy man."

Names of the new applicants were not disclosed in the announcement by the Rev. Louis Thornton, director of admissions.

The anonomus donor specified that the cadets, dismissed for cribbing on examinations, must show need and not participate in varsity athletics. Many of them were football players.

Top Teams To Battle When Levis Play Host To Carrollton Tuesday

The Sedalia Levis will play host to the Carrollton Merchants Tuesday night at the Center Park at 8:15.

This game will be the second encounter of the two clubs this season. The Sedalians are on top side of the ledger with two wins.

Carrollton has one of the top softball nines north of the Missouri river.

Plackmeyer a left hander will probaply be the hurler for the Carrollton club with Macoline as his battery mate. Jess Belsha will pitch for the Levis.

U. S. Women's Golf Team Beats British in Wrightman

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 25—(AP)—The U. S. women's tennis team gained its 15th consecutive Wightman Cup triumph by defeating the British six matches to one today at Longwood. It was the first time the invaders registered a single point since 1948.

Ferrier Paces Field In Ft. Wayne Tourney

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 25—(AP)—Australian golfer Jim Ferrier shot his third straight 66 today and took a three-stroke edge over the cutdown field in the $15,000 Fort Wayne open tournament.

With nines of 33 today, Ferrier repeated his six-under-par performance of Thursday and Friday, carding a 54-hole total of 198. His was the only 66 today in a sifted-down field of 50 pros and 12 amateurs.

Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., with a 201, is in the best position to challenge Ferrier's amazing consistency in the final 18 holes tomorrow.

Trailing Heafner were John Palmer of Badin, N. C., whose 68 gave him a 202, and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, whose 67 gave him a 203 total.

Toledo Youth Cops Crown In PGA Caddy Tournament

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 25—(AP)—Leonard Pietras, 17-year-old high school student from Toledo, today defeated Wayne Etherton of Chicago, and 3, to win the PGA-National Caddie Golf championship in 36-hole finals over Ohio State university's Scarlet course.

Buggy Owner Views Autos Practically

DES MOINES— (AP) —George Heiberger, who farms north of Preston, Ia., says he's never owned an automobile "and I never want to."

"If I signed a driver's license it would be the same as signing my death certificate," declared Heiberger, who makes his regular two and one-half mile trip to Preston driving a team of horses hitched to a two-seated buggy.

"If I go to sleep while riding," says the 73-year-old farmer, "the horses will take me home which is more than an automobile will do."

Hint to Motorists

Over-inflation of tires causes improper road contact and the center of the tread is worn excessively because of riding on a narrow strip.

Patterson Encounters Gibson For Golf Crown At Country Club Today

Smooth swinging Gentry Patterson faces the tournament surprise Bill Gibson today for the Sedalia Country Club championship. The two will tee off about 10:00 a.m.

Both downed tough foes to gain spots in the finals. Patterson edged the hole-in-one artist John Van Dyne for his spot, while Gibson smashed the straight shooting J. J. McGrath 9 and 7 for his berth.

The winner of today's match will succeed Allen Tawse as club champion. Tawse did not participate in the tourney this year.

Finale Of State Fair

Thrill Show Will Feature Parachutist

The Joie Chitwod Auto Daredevils can now proclaim their two hour thrill-packed stunt show on both land and in the air. With the addition of Jack Huber, parachutist to the troup of daredevils, the Chitwood show have come up with a sensational thriller to be presented tonight at the Missouri State Fair.

During afternoon shows, Huber soars to a three-mile height in an aeroplane, when he jumps into space carrying a bag of flour to mark his trail through the sky, then when he has fallen to within 1000 feet of the earth his parachute opens and he glides to the ground, usually within the confines of the infield of the race track.

Huber's delayed parachute stunt is considered among airmen as the most difficult and daring of all air stunts.

At night performances Huber also jumps, but from a lesser height and with lights on his body to mark his trail.

Huber can account for more than 2000 successful jumps.

The Chitwood show, which has come in for much publicity in connection with their motion picture and television shows, added the Huber act because of its sensational nature and to make thrill day at the fair a Roman stunt arena.

Jack Huber will appear at the fair tonite, when the Joie Chitwood Auto Daredevils will occupy the feature slot in front of the grandstand.

Jack Cooney Gets All-Star Position

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 25—(AP)—Joplin and Topeka, running one-two in the western association pennant race, shared honors with Salina on the circuit's all-star team announced today.

Each of the three players on the all-star lineup with Muckogee and Enid each getting one player. Not represented were Fort Smith, Hutchinson and St. Joseph.

The team, picked with the approval of league president Howard Goetz, was selected by the league's sports writers and radio broadcasters. Each city was allowed one ballot and no one was allowed to vote for a player on the local team.

Receiving the highest number of votes were Harry Bright, Topeka's fine third baseman; Dick Tettlebach, Joplin's rookie standout in centerfield, and Mike Morrongiellor, Joplin's classy second baseman.

The all-star lineup (with latest averages from the Howe bureau):

First base—Jack Cooney, Muskogee, .338.

Second base—Mike Morrongiello, Joplin, .294.

Third base —Harry Bright, Topeka, .328.

Shortstop—Wally Habel, Salina, .276.

Outfield—Dick Tettleback, Joplin, .305.

Outfield—Solly Drake, Topeka, .323.

Outfield—Bill Berry, Topeka, .290.

Catcher—Joe Breidt, Salina, .268.

Pitcher (righthander)—Merlin Nehring, Joplin, won 18, lost 4.

Pitcher (lefthander) — Gene Snyder, Salina, won 18, lost 8.

Utility—Winston Havenstrite, Enid, .259.

S-C Starts Grid Contact Work

Monday afternoon marks the start of a rugged three week grind for the Smith-Cotton high school football players, who will play their opener of a tough nine game schedule on September 14 against the Marshall Owls.

Practice officially started August 15, but only a handful of boys have been turning out because of the State Fair or jobs.

Late Start Hurts Bengals

With such a late start the Bengals will be handicapped when they meet squads that have had regular and tough sessions since the opening practice date. Two-a-day practices are on tap later in the week.

Head coach Ralph "Stub" Dow and his assistant, coach Howard Glavin will be at the high school at 1:30 p.m. Monday to issue full uniform and pads to senior high school boys. Practice is slated to get underway at 2:30 p.m.

To date the boys who have worked-out have received only fundamentals from Dow and Glavin, but contract work is scheduled to start with the first full uniform drill.

Expects Turn-Out of 40

At least 40 boys are expected to answer "second opening drill call". This includes 12 lettermen and several "BB" team numeral winners.

All eighth and ninth grade boys who are planning to play football in the Junior High school program are requested to attend practice sessions and get an idea of what they will learn later in the season.

Looking around at some of the competition the Bengals have billed for games this season it is found that every team they meet has been working-out in full uniform. In the conference, the defending champions, Columbia Kewpies have ten returning lettermen, including a top-class quarter-back in Bobby Musgrave. Coach Bob Roark of the Kewpies will be minus of the huge forward wall that protected some pint-sized backs in 1950, but he expects the ten returning lettermen to fill-up the holes left. Galen Branham, all-conference center and captain of the 1951 edition of the Columbiaans is returning. Last season the Hickman boys were undefeated, untied and unscored upon in CMC play. Their only loss was to the Kirksville high school by a 14-7 score.

Jays Depend on Spirit

Coach John Griffith of the Jefferson City Jays says his boys short on size and will have to make it up with spirit. With two promising clubs and favorites to win the conference, the Jays will have to hustle to catch the locals and Columbia. Jack Newberry, Jack Gabler, Jim McCarty and little Pete Walz are key figures to the Jay's success.

At Kemper and Missouri Military academys it is impossible to judge their returning squad until after the first few contests because of the rapid turn-over in the school's personnel and enrollment.

Hannibal A "Dark Horse"

Hannibal can be considered the dark horse of the loop. Last season they were short on ability and size, but Coach Ira Winn has a strong group of on-coming sophomores.

In non - conference foes the Tigers will meet a riddled St. Peter's team. The Saints have only four returning lettermen and a new coach, Gene Hart. Acocrding to Jeff City sources, the Petes have only a slight chance of repeating a fine 1950 record.

In all—the 1951 grid season looks most interesting at this point. It is unsafe to make any predictions, but is would be a safe bet that the CMC conference won't be the runaway it was in 1950.

Your New

Social Security

Questions and Answers

Question: Are World War II servicemen's rights under social security affected by the new law?

Answer: Yes. The amended law provides wage credits of $160 for each month of active military or naval service in World War II. This applies to men and women who had 90 days or more of active military service between September 15, 1940, and July 25, 1947, and were not dishonorably discharged. Ninety days of service not required in the case of those who died in service or were discharged because of service-connected disability.

Question: Will these wage credits be affected by Veterans' Administration pension or compensation?

Answer: No. Veterans' Administration payments will not affect the use of World War II wage credits under the new law. However, if other federal retirement benefits are based on the veteran's military or naval service in World War II, these special wage credits will not be counted toward social security benefits.

3 Easy Steps...into your new 1951 Packard

1 Check the little extra cash difference! Just compare the slight difference in your 18 monthly payments (after 1/3 down) between a "low-priced" car and a Packard:

If you've been planning to pay...	...extra monthly payments for a Packard can be as low as...
$2100	$11*
$2200	7*
$2400	0*

*Generous trade-in allowances make these figures even smaller! Figures above are based on Detroit-delivered prices, but cash differences are comparable throughout the country.

2 Check the long-lasting newness! Packard alone gives you: Exclusive new Packard Thunderbolt Engines, America's highest-compression eights—with the service-free simplicity of a design with up to 25% fewer working parts than in engines of comparable power. New everything ... and all of it backed by motordom's greatest durability record. Fact: Of all the Packards built, in the last 52 years, over 50% are still in service!

3 Check our generous trade-in allowances! We're offering top allowances for all makes of cars to build up a varied selection of used cars to meet current demand. So—don't sign for any new car until you've heard our offer.

COME IN—
see and drive the newest new car of the year
—and get our offer on your present car!

PIGSKIN POWERHOUSE!

Playing at the Liberty theatre now thru Tuesday are two exciting and human stories set against a gridiron background. In the above scene from "The Guy Who Came Back," we see Paul Douglas trying to explain to his wife, played by Joan Bennett, what he's doing in Linda Darnell's apartment. Also starred is Don DeFore. The co-hit is the fast-as-lightning story of pro football players "Easy Living," which stars Victor Mature, Lucille Ball, Lizabeth Scott, Sonny Tufts, and Lloyd Nolan.

The irreplessible, inimitable Danny Kaye as he appears with Bonnie Lass Corinne Calvet in one of the many eye-catching, toe-tapping, laugh-quaking numbers from the technicolor treat, "On The Riviera," starting today at the Fox Theatre. Loaded with songs, fun and gals, "On The Riviera" also stars Gene Tierney.

"GOD IS MY CO-PILOT"

A story of the men who found faith amid the battle-worn skies over China is the thrilling picture, "God Is My Co-Pilot" starring Dennis Morgan, Dane Clark, Raymond Massey, and Alan Hale. This outstanding motion picture shows tonight thru Tuesday on the giant screen at the 50 Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre!

Laughs come in bunches in this hilarious scene from "The Fuller Brush Girl," which co-stars Lucille Ball, in the title role, with Eddie Albert. Co-hit on this program is the thrilling mystery hit "Between Midnite and Dawn" starring Mary Stevens and Edmund O'Brien. This program plays today thru Tuesday at the Uptown Theatre.

Kentucky Mentor Says:

Winner Costs Coaches Time After Season

By Klye Vance

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 25—(AP)—You win a lot of football games, you go to the Sugar bowl or the Orange bowl, and you pay and pay.

Kentucky football coach Paul Bryant yawned lazily today and said he deserved the privilege. He has been paying for weeks the price of producing winning football teams.

The price is paid in travel—travel to talk, travel to teach and travel to be seen, at banquets, clinics and public appearances.

Travels Far and Wide

So Bryant, having sent teams in successive years to the Orange bowl, has been on the go since January, flying all over the country and making some extra whistle stops.

"I feel like a waist gunner," the much-flown Bryant moaned.

His memory was vague on just when he made which trip. But after counting on his fingers for five minutes, he said he knew he had made two-score trips to at least 13 states, the District of Columbia and one foreign country, Germany.

He made five trips to Texas.

And he went to Washington three times, twice for talks and once to take part in the celebrities golf tournament.

He went to Germany for the army—he, Yale's Herman Hickman, Michigan's Fritz Crisler and Michigan State's Biggie Munn. They taught football to American G.I.'s at Garmisch.

Bryant has made speaking appearances in Durham, N. C., Atlanta, San Antonio, Oklahoma City, Weirton, W. Va., and 15 or 20 places in Kentucky.

Holds Several Clinics

He has helped with clinics in Coatsville, Pa., Pittsburgh, Bloomington, Ill., Ames, Iowa, Carbondale, Ill., San Antonio, Middletown, Ohio, and Petersburg and Quantico, Va., as well as his own at Kentucky.

He has been to coaches' meetings in Atlanta, Dallas and Birmingham.

One of his short trips was from Lexington to Louisville to receive an award as Kentucky's outstanding citizen of the year.

Somewhere in between, the traveling tutor found time to take his family to Florida for a short vacation.

Midget Racers In 40-Lap Event At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY—Forty laps will be the distance Sunday night for Mid-Western midget auto racers at Olympic stadium as the Handicap Clasic has been increased five laps to meet the public's demand. Time trials for the nine-event program will begin at six o'clock and races at seven p.m.

Ben Harleman, 1948 midget auto track champion here at Olympic Stadium, is out to repeat the record he set late in the 1949 season when he captured three consecutive feature events. Out of action during most of the 1950 season because of a serious injury, Harleman tested several cars this season before finding the right combination in the Doolittle No. 20 Offenhauser, the car in which he holds the three-feature record.

Point leader is Bob Slater, of Kansas City, with 40.9 points, followed by Vito Calia, also of Kansas City, with 29.5. Jerry Kemp, of St. Louis, has 27.7 points, six-tenths of a point more than Harleman.

Chicago Bears Play Redskins In KC Sept. 19

Johnny Lujack, king of the T formation quarterbacks, leads the famed Chicago Bears into Blues Stadium, Kansas City, for a night football game against the Washington Redskins September 19.

The Bears, perennial challenger for the National eLague championship, have a star studded lineup, but Lujack tops all the rest. hTe former Notre Dame all-American was just about the best in the business last year. He racked up 109 points by scoring 11 touchdowns, three field goals and 33 extra points.

During the long campaign he completed 121 of 254 passes for 1731 yards.

Sammy Baugh and Harry Gilmer of the Redskins and Otto Graham of the Browns, among others, are famed as apssers. Graham and Frankie Albert of Frisco handle the ball like magicians, but none of them is as versatile as Lujack. In addition to passing and handling the ball with great skill, he is one of football's top ball carriers and kickers.

The early demand for tickets to the September 19 game indicates a capacity crowd and a new record for gate receipts at a sports event in Kansas City. Tickets are on sale at Blues Stadium.

PGA Will Hold Golf Tourney At Admore, Okla.

ARDMORE, Okla., Aug. 25—(AP)—A $15,000 open gold tournament, approved by the Professional Golfers Association, will be held here June 5-8, officials of the Dornich Hills country club announced today.

Oilman Waco Turner said the PGA promised a field of 180 players, including the game's topranking stars. These would include such players as Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff, Lloyd Mangrum and possibly Ben Hogan.

Dornick Hills officials said the tournament would follow the Colonial Invitational in Fort Worth, Tex. This event usually is held in late May.

Improving Standards Of Missouri Schools

During the past few years the General Assembly, the State Board of Education, local school boards, and many organizations representing cross sections of the entire population of the state have been working together to give Missouri an improved and dynamic educational system.

The problem of providing better schools for Missouri children has been approached from several angles. The approach which is probably best known to most people is the school reorganization program. Senate Bill 307, passed in 1948, set up a system of election of six-director county boards of education in each county in the state. These boards have studied the existing school units in their counties and then presented to the voters a reorganization plan by which they thought the school districts could be reorganized in a way to offer better and more economical advantages to the school children. In elections held on or before November 1, 1949 the voters in local proposed school districts approved many of the recommended enlarged school districts. The total number of school districts in the state was reduced from about 8,300 to about 6,400. Some 15,500 square miles or about 22% of the area of the state was included in this first round of school districts has been further reduced by voluntary consolidations and annexations of small districts into larger units. During the summer and fall of 1951 another series of elections will be held all over Missouri at which time additional proposed enlarged school districts will be voted upon. In Pettis county four reorganized districts were approved by voters on November 1, 1949. One rural district has voted to annex to one of the reorganized districts since that date. The county board of education is now working on another reorganization plan which will be offered to the voters sometime this fall. The total number of districts in Pettis county has already been reduced from 80 to 49. Members of the Pettis county board of education are F. B. Van Dyke, James F. Blackburn, Norton Hefferman, Clay Schroder, Paul S. Read, and Olen Monsees.

It is believed that larger school units with their broader tax bases will be able to offer a more complete curriculum in better staffed and equipped school buildings. Missouri is following a trail already blazed by many other states in carrying out its school reorganization program.

The State Department of Education is charged with the responsibility of setting up standards of attainment for school districts in the state. This duty is being discharged through the school classification program. The local school board, pthe facutly, the county or city superintendent and the State Department of Education through its district supervisor work together to determine the classification program. The local school board, the faculty, the county or city superintendent and the State Department of Education through its district supervisor work together to determine the classification of the school. Any school which meets the minimum program of teacher qualifications, school plant, equipment, curriculum, etc. as set up by the state board of education receives the rating of a class A school. Schools which meet higher standards than those of the minimum program may qualify for approval as AA schools. The highest rating of all which stamps a school as outstanding in all phases of its program is the coveted AAA rating. State Department of Education members who work with school officials in Pettis county on the school classification program are Harold L. Young of Warrensburg, the high school supervisor for central Missouri, and Ray T. Evans of Osceloa, the rural supervisor for this district.

The third way in which Missouri is attempting to improve its schools is through an upgrading o fthe teaching profession. The Missouri Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards was created October 16, 1950. It is made up of 17 members who represent all segments of the teaching profession plus the Missouri Congress of Parents and Teachers. The Commission will advise with the state board of education on plans to further professionalize the teaching profession. The program of the commission includes legislation to improve the status of teachers, research to determine to what degree teacring is already a profession recruitment of good teachers who will make teaching in Missouri their life work, policy-making to determine standards for the teaching profession, information to keep the public posted and interested in the improvement of teacher qualifications, and coordination of the various agencies which work for the welfare and interests of teachers.

The Missouri Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards hopes to attract into the teaching profession in Missouri a continuing supply of persons of adequate scholastic ability, high character and integrity, vigorous health, and outstanding personality. It has a goal of a B.S. in Education degree as its minimum standard of training for every teacher in Missouri. Those now teaching who do not meet this standard are being urged to earn additional credit each year toward the baccalaureate degree.

The commission is working toward a two-fold aim of outstanding service rendered to the community by a well-trained, ethical, well-adjusted teaching profession and recognition and appreciation by the community of faithful and devoted service of its teachers.

The Icelandic Althing, or parliament, dates from 930.

No Dogs Allowed!

I'm just a little dog, but gee,
I love him, oh, so much,
I like to have him talk to me
And feel his loving touch,
I heard his mommy sorta sigh
As off to school he started
And now I know the reason why
She acted so down-hearted;
He was so very grown-up when
He said "I'm not afraid
Already I can count to ten
"When I start in first grade,"
Then Daddy looked at him so proud
And Mommy kinda smiled,
And then she said, not very loud:
"He's growing up—our child"
But he was simply filled with pride,
I knew school must be great
I thought I'll go right by his side
But, no, I'm told to wait—
He said: "You can't go in with me
"You got to run along"
Now just what can the matter be?
I won't do nothin' wrong
So I sat up and waved my paws,
Did all the tricks I knew,
But he said something about laws
And nothin' he could do,
I don't know what school's all about,
It's something that I hate,
But I'll be here when he comes out—
I'll just sit down and wait.

School Bell Rings Again

As the summer, the play time of the year, moves swiftly—only too swiftly to a close—September begins to loom up big and bold to youngsters everywhere.

To some it's an unhappy thought the end of lazy days. But to most of them it will mean a meeting again of schoolmates, the fun of school activities and another step in education.

From the first grade on there is always something new. If not in the classroom, on the playground. And Junior will be coming home with surprisingly new and different ideas.

Mothers and daddies of the first graders never know what to expect. And there are many amused glances exchanged, such as happened in one home when sonny announced he had learned a new game.

"What is the game?" asked his mother.

She was a bit taken back when he answered: "Drop the Kleenex."

"Well," she remarked to her husband, "they have even got a new twist to the old fashioned drop the handkerchief — I suppose that is to make it more sanitary."

But the parents are not the only ones who get surprises. Teachers get them, too, sometimes to such a degree that they don't know exactly what to do or say next.

One teacher was working patiently with a little girl trying to teach her how to pronounce and spell the word music.

"It ends with a "k" sound," she told the child. "Now what other letter has the some sound?"

The child didn't know.

"Now what is the letter," insisted the teacher. "It is the first letter in the word cat."

"K," answered the child.

"Do you spell cat with a 'K'," asked her teacher.

The little girl nodded she did and the teacher asked her to spell it. There was not a moment's hesitation. She spoke up loud and confident as she spelled out the word of which she was so very sure:

"K-I-T-T-Y."

And who was the teacher to argue she was wrong — after all she was right.

Grandmothers sometimes get a little taken back, too, at these first graders. One grandmother who wanted her little granddaughter to be a little extra smart when she started in school tried teaching her numbers during summer months. The little girl lives in a nearby town and when grandmother goes to see her she always takes her something.

One day recently he was going there and decided to call the child and ask her what she wanted her to bring her. She was speechless when the youngster's reply came:

"You can bring me 100 pounds of candy and 50 packages of chewing gum," she said sweetly.

The second year of school gives a little air of importance. After all, now these very big children can look down and smile at those little kids in the first grade. But But through grades two and three they begin to change. Baby teeth come out and new teeth come in giving them funny little toothless smiles. Their ideas change, too, and their baby ways begin to slip away.

Every year through grade school they grow in wisdom, in height and in other ways. They get to the place where they think they know more than their mothers and dads and sometimes the parents begin to wonder, too.

The boys are wrapped up in ball games and many other such things and sometimes the girls are, too. But no matter what they are interested in they like to have Mom there when they come home and they like to know that there is food ready when they come in.

Some of them study hard, others don't and often mother and dad are in hot water whether their 'pride and joy' will pass or not.

Every school program and every exhibit finds mother and dad right there with the feeling that their own child has just a little better exhibit than the others in his or her room.

Pretty early the boys begin to claim their girls and maybe she agrees or maybe she is just indifferent. Maybe she picks a boy, too, and boys can be indifferent as well as girls.

"I don't like girls," one blonde boy about eight or nine said in disgust. "They yak-yak too much" —and then he continued, "At least my girl does — I don't think she likes me. She doesn't pay any attention to any of us fellows at school."

About the age to go to high school some of the boys begin to wake up to what lovely creatures they really are.

One young boy has been sighing over the vision he sees in his mother's mirror to such a degree for the past few months that mother has no place to powder her nose when they start to get ready to go some place. Sonny takes over the vanity. Father combs and re-combs his two remaining hairs before the mirror in the bath room and mother has to put on her lipstick before the tiny mirror in the kitchen.

Things pick up as high school goes on. Studies become more interesting because there is a look ahead at the future coming up.

There are big events scheduled: Football, basketball, track, parades music, plays, dances, something all the time.

There are the favorite and adored teachers whose personalities and training will have an influence forever on these young lives.

This is what the public and parochial schools of Sedalia and the surrounding communities mean when the month of August is torn from the calendar — it means September. When boys and girls of all ages start to school. It means a liberal education in book knowledge, in character building, in school and civic duties, in learning to live — in the art of just growing up.

Sedalia Public Schools Open September 10

Attention is called to the following announcements in regard to the opening of school:

1. Sedalia Public Schools will open Monday morning, September 10, at 9 o'clock.

2. School will be in session only a short time Monday for the purpose of checking enrollment, making assignments in regard to textbooks and supplies and for general announcements. The rest of the day will be free for the purchase of books and supplies and for such adjustments in enrollment as may be necessary.

3. Each student who expects to attend school the first semester should be present the opening day as all necessary adjustments will be made upon the basis of attendance Monday.

4. Textbooks will be furnished free to pupils of the first eight grades. Parents will be requested to purchase for children of these grades only pens, pencils, tablets, writing books, drawing book, crayolas, and water colors. High school pupils must provide their own books. Pupils are urged not to purchase books and supplies until after the opening session, at which time they will be given a list of books and supplies to be purchased. All books and supplies should be in the hands of pupils at the opening of school Tuesday morning, as regular class work will start at that time.

5. Age of entrance—All pupils who will be 6 years old on or before January 21 may enroll.

6. Students entering school for the first time should present birth certificates in order that no mistakes may be made in recording ages. Principals are now in their offices and new pupils should be enrolled before the first day of school.

7. Each child should be vaccinated or smallpox before entering school. Certificates of vaccination should be sent with the child opening day of school.

8.The following fees will be collected in the high school from pupils enrolled in these departments:

Smith-Cotton High School

Manual Training—$1.00, no text.
Mechanical Drawing — $1.00 paper, ink, etc.
Architectural Drawing — $1.00, paper, ink, etc.
Vocal Music—$1.00, no text.
Band—$1.00, for music. ....
Orchestra—$1.00, for music.
American Problems—$1.00, no text.
Typing—50 cents, no text.
Speech—$1.00, no text.
Art—$1.00, no text.
Instrumental Rent—75 cents per month.
Secretarial Training — $1.00, for magazine.

Each pupil in the high school must also be provided with an approved lock.

9. Students will report to the same building in which they were enrolled at the close of school last year provided: (1) they have not moved out of the district or (2) they have not been promoted to Smith-Cotton High School. This will apply even though the student may have been attending a school last spring by special permission outside the district in which he was living. Transfers obtained last year will also apply for the coming year.

10. Requests for transfers will be considered during the first week of school. It will be necessary, however, for all students to report to their proper school until transfers can be made by the superintendent. As soon as we know our enrollment situation in the various schools, we will make as many requested adjustments as possible. Requests for transfers should be mailed to the superintendent and will be considered as quickly as possible.

The public is respectfully requested to be as considerate as possible in these requests.

11. School calendar for 1951-52:
a. General teachers meeting Saturday, September 8, 9:30 a. m.
b. School begins Monday, September 10.
c. Dismiss for the Missouri State Teachers Association meeting in St. Louis.
d. Dismiss Thursday and Friday, November 22 and 23, for Thanksgiving.
e. Dismiss Friday, December 21, 4:00 p. m. for Christmas vacation.
f. Begin school Wednesday, January 2.
g. Smith-Cotton High School commencement Monday evening, May 26.
h. C. C. Hubbard High School commencement Tuesday evening, May 27.
i. Schools close Tuesday, May 27.

Front Page Pictures Show Three Steps in School

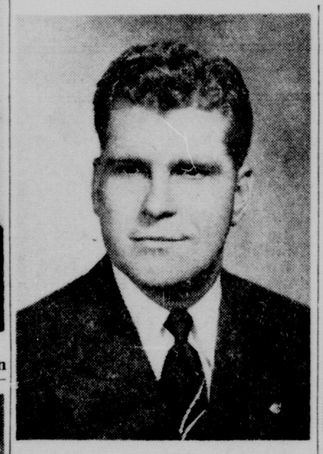

The pictures on the front page of the Democrat-Capital school edition depicting the three steps in education, grade school high school and college were taken recently by Robert Zoernig, 236 South Prospect.

The large picture is a group of first grade youngsters ready to start to school. At the door to open it for a pretty little girl is Bill Hurt, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hurt and the little girl with her pigtails is Janie Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Gray. Seated in the steps left to right are Johnnie Rymer, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Rymer; Terry Lou Zander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Zander; Mary Elizabeth Van Dyne daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Van Dyne and Sue Skaggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Skaggs. Standing with the group is Mike Jonson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neville Jonson, who has just put down his lunch bucket to join in the conversation, probably about who they will have for a teacher. The boy with the dog, who is trying to get the pup to go back home, is Johnny Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Johnson, and the dog Mitzi, belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lambirth.

The high school picture looks like Bob England has said the wrong thing to Kay Sublett and has got himself in the dog house. The little problem he has here is one that is never solved by the best of male mathematicans, whether it is in high school or later life—that little problem of getting along with women. In the background are Dixie Gorrell and Janet Seaberg and going toward the high school building are Bill Gilbert and Madeline Nichols.

"I'll take yo' bag" says the smiling porter on the Missouri Pacific streamliner to Mary Ann Menefee, who is is boarding the train to leave for college. There is excitement in her face as she thinks of the fun she is going to have but she hesitates just a moment on the steps of the train to say goodbye to someone on the station platform.

Fall Fashions For School

By Connie Sue Shoemaker

Clothes! Ah now that is a subject most high school and college girls can stay on for hours. It is almost fall now and the fall clothes are here and the buying is on. Corduroys are just as big this year as they have ever been and this year's news is on the checked corduroys that mix-or-match. There are even corduroy dresses that make lovely date dresses. In the college or high school girls wardrobe a jersey skirt and blouse combination is very important. This outfit makes a good practical school outfit and dress it up with a scarf or a small piece of jewelry and wham! a dreamy date dress. Of course the ever popular skirt and sweater combination is still very good this year. The latest in sweaters is the short sleeve cardigan.

The basis of everyones wardrobe is a good suit. This is something that can be dressed up or down to suit the occasion. The greys are very good this year. This is a color that can be worn by almost everyone and you can wear so many colors with it. Tweed suits are very good again this year for school and they are great for the football games. Another outfit that can be dressed up or down is the knit dress, which can be worn to practically everything. They are coming out this year in even more colors then they have before.

Something new in Sedalia is the duster dress, which can be fitted tightly around your waist with the belt and worn as a dress or worn loosely and you have a duster coast.

The separates are wonderful to have, such as the weskits which come in most any type of material that you should want. Slacks are something else that every high school and college girl should have included in her wardrobe.

Other very good date dresses are made of faille and velveteen. The little velvet hats are the rage this year. You can put it on and wear it with practically everything.

In the rain wear department don't be surprised at what you find as the manufacturers seem to be going all out for something different. You will find the corduroy, which are very good looking and practical as it makes good fall and spring coats, besides your rainsoat. There is the raincoat that can be worn the year around. It has push up sleeves with taffeta lining. Very clever!

For the kindergarten through grade school lass the buying should be of sturdy things that will stand up under the wear and tear. This year's line of coats, from the kindergarten to the grade schoolers is something like that of her older sisters in the fabrics, tweeds, clipped chinchilla and worsted. Also something that will please every mother is the hem and really a big one in the sleeves and the hem line of the coat.

Their dresses are in bright colors, all in fabrics that are preshrunk, fast color and treated for crease resistance.

For the grammer school age, who want to look big are the cute sweaters and skirts.

And so—from the college girl to the tinniest girl of school age there are fashions that will please —please the girls, big or little.

Climax Springs Has Building Program

All plans have been approved by the state and everything completed up to osting notices for bids by different contractors for a new school building at Climax Springs.

It will be near the present school building and will be three class rooms and a gymnasium. The present building consists of four class rooms and large auditorium which can be converted into two more class rooms. The basement has served for the lunch room. It is expected that the new building will be completed so the senior class of 1952 can be graduated in it.

Following is the teaching staff: Henry N. Bush, superintendent; Francis Rogers, English and music; Raymond Sneed, social studies, in the high school and Mrs. Raymond Sneed, fifth and sixth grades; Miss Betty Spry, third and fourth; Mrs. Lee Milsap, first and second, in the elementary school.

Another teacher is needed in the high school.

Members of the board of education are: Johnny Miller, president; Arnold Park, vice president; E. F. Likes, Virgil Roark, A. R. Duckworth and Ray Johnston.

There has been a crew of plasterers at the school this summer. All rooms and the gymnasium have been replastered.

All pupils that are six years of age on before December 31 may enroll in the first grade.

A shop program will be offered this fall.

Versailles Schools Open September 10

The Versailles Public Schools will open on Monday September 10th at 9:00 a.m. The opening date is one week later this year than usual as the Morgan county fair is held in Versailles the first week in September and it was thought best to open school the week following the fair.

Pre-enrollment will be held in the high school Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, September 3rd, 4th, and 5th. High school students may enroll any of the three days.

A joint facutly meeting of all teachers in the system will be held at the high school at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, September 6th when general plans for the school year will be discussed. Faculty meetings will be held in the separate schools on Friday, September 7th at 9:00 a.m. The rest of the day wil be spent getting everything ready for a full day's session of school the following Monday.

A school lunch program beginning October 1st. High school students as well as elementary children will be permitted to eat in the lunch rodm.

There is a vacancy in the colored elementary school due to the death of Miss Nettie B. Lewis, who has been teaching the school for several years. There is also a vacancy in the commercial department in high school due to the resignation of Miss Wilma Jackson. These vacancies will be filled before the opening of school.

A course in Drivers Training will be offered this year. A dual controlled Chevrolet car has been secured from Hunter and McDonough Motor company in Versailles for instructional purposes. This car is loaned to the school for the term.

Plans Made for Green Ridge School Year

The re-organized school district No. 8 of Green Ridge are completing arrangements for the school term of 1951-52.

Workmen have reroofed the old school building that was built a number of years ago and are installing a new furnace in the same building which will be completed by the time school starts. The new vocational agriculture building is well underway and will be completed by the 1st of November by the Dean Construction company of Sedalia. A new parking lot for the school buses is also planned, where the students will board the buses.

The school runs four buses to bring the students to school. The bus drivers are, Charles H. Ward, Gordon Brownfield, Victor Ward and Royal Ragar.

The following teachers have accepted positions in the schools of No. R-8 District of Green Ridge; Maynard R. Jones, Superintendent, Miss Grace Still, Primary; Miss Gayle Kendrick, 2nd and 3rd grades; Mrs. Basil Chaney, 4th and 5th grades; Mrs. F. L. Calvert, 5th and 6th; Mrs. Faye Berthouex, music; Mrs. Elizabeth Bond, Centerview; Miss Lula Parrish; Manila; Mrs. Carl Ragar, Van Natta; H. D. Ashley, social science; Mrs. Nannie Sims, English; Mrs. Emmett Ruffin, mathematics; Mrs. Ebert Close, commerce; R. H. Denker, vocational agriculture; A. J. Kazina, veterans instructor; William Alspaugh, veterans instructor. The positions for the 7th and 8th grade and high school science have not been filled to date.

The following graduates of the term of 1951 will attend Missouri State Teachers College at Warrensburg: beginning in September; Miss Marlyane Close, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fordice Close of Green Ridge, Miss Anna Katherine Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Riley of Green Ridge.

Miss Doris Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Green, Route 1, Sedalia, and a graduate of Smith-Cotton high school, who will attend Drury college in Springfield this fall. Miss Green will major in science. (Photo by Lehmer)

Miss Jane Morgan, daughter of Mrs. Mable Morgan, 118 West Seventh, and a graduate of Smith-Cotton high school, who will attend Central College in Fayette this fall. Miss Morgan will major in business administration.

Mike Hayes, son of Mrs. Constance K. Hayes, 312 West Broadway, and a graduate of Smith-Cotton high school, who will attend the Missouri University in Columbia this fall.

The schools observe the statewide hot lunch program which is in charge of Mrs. Tom E. Beatty and Mrs. Charles E. Peterman, who are assisted by seven pupils. The serving facilities are located in a frame building, 40 by 50 feet, which was built two years ago. This building located east of the school auditorium. Last year an average of 138 meals were served each day through the hot-lunch program. The other portion of the building which houses the cooking and eating facilities is used for industrial arts.

The Knob Noster school band consists of about 25 pieces, which has been directed by William G. Mack of Warrensburg. Mr. Mack enlisted in the air force on June 29, 1951. This year the band will be directed by Sylvester Kirchner of Warrensburg.

Riley Heads Reorganized School District

On June 5, 1951, twenty-three rural districts and California voted to form reorganized school district No. 1 of Moniteau county. Thirteen of the outlying former rural districts are operating and the following teachers have been employed to teach in these districts: O. Raymond McDaniel, Miss Patty Kaiser, Mrs. Rosa Vaughan, Miss Geraldine Ziebold, Mrs. Max Block, Miss Mary Lee Birdsong, Mrs. Rachel Sappington, Mrs. Cleo Inglish, Mrs. Edna Mae Russell, Mrs. Pauline Crawford, Mrs. Melvin McDonald, Mrs. Grace Dorzab and Miss Emma Jean Bieri.

Ten of the twenty-three former rural districts have been closed for one or more years.

The board of education of reorganized district No. 1 on June 28, organized as follows: W. H. Dickson, president; Emmet H. Rohrbach, vice president; W. S. Lemen, secretary; Richard Heck, treasurer. Clarence Sappington and Theodore Bueker complete the six man membership.

Dr. George A. Riley was elected superintendent of this newly reorganized school district at the June 28th meeting of the board. Dr. Riley, who has been superintendent of the California schools for the past six years, is president of the Missouri Association of School Administrators. He is a member of the citizens commission for the study of education and is also on the elementary curriculum committee, which is working on the revision of the present elementary courses of study.

The following teachers have been employed to teach in the California schools: Mrs. Alline Barnett, vocational home economics; Miss Florence Hudson, English; Virgil Davis, physical education and social studies; Douglas Elder, Spanish and social studies; Miss Marian Flynt, mathematics; Kenneth Smith, science; C. M. Kroeck, vocational agriculture; Miss Evelyn Kueck, commerce; Miss Duretta Mueller, social studies and mathematics; Melvin Peterman, music; Miss Lillian Allen, first grade; Mrs. E. A. McCollester, second grade; Miss Leta Robinson, first-second grade; Miss Mildred Kuhlman, third grade; Mrs. Anna Cook, fourth grade; Mrs. Helen Imhoff, fifth grade; Miss Lela Zey, sixth grade and Mrs. Lorraine Groves, Negro school. Nine of the above named teachers have a master's degree.

The curricula offered by the high school includes both instrumental and vocal music. The band played at the Moniteau county fair and will play at the Missouri State Fair. The vocational agriculture boys are working on projects during the entire year. Livestock was exhibited at the Tipton, California, Ozark Empire and State Fair.

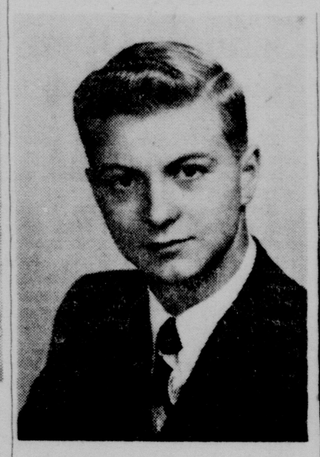

California, under the leadership of the physical education director Virgil Davis has conducted a summer recreation program for the children of the community.

On April 20, California voted bonds to construct an industrial arts and vocational agriculture shop building and a cafeteria to be used in the school lunch program. Construction of these buildings is in progress.

Teaching Roster is Complete

All Instructors Have Been Named For the 1951-52 Terms of Tipton Public Schools

The teaching staff for Tipton public schools is complete for next term.

The faculty for the term of 1951-52 is made up of the following teachers: Ira E. Grubb, superintendent; C. M. White of the elementary school at Tipton will again teach driver's training, fine art, and other subjects.

Miss Alma Lander is principal of the high school who also teaches the seventh and eighth grades. Kenneth Stahlhut, principal at Syracuse and teacher of the seventh and eighth grades there. Mr. Stahlhut taught at Baxter last term but there will be no school there. Other teachers in the Syracuse building are Mrs. Evalena Anthony, grades five and six; Miss Vivian Holloway, grades three and four, and Mrs. Meryle Repper, grades 1 and 2. These teachers taught in the same positions last term. In the elementary school at Tipton, Miss Mae Steiner, grades five and six; Mrs. Gladys Miller, grades three and four and Miss Rebecca Zey, grades one and two, the same grades as they taught last term. Galveston Shipley will again teach the Harrison school.

In the high school, Hubert Huber will teach studies in mathematics and science. Mr. Herbert was married last spring, is in school at the University of Missouri this summer but his home is in Moberly where his father is a practicing physician. Mrs. Helen Pettigrew who taught at Russellville last term will teach commercial studies this term. Mrs. Pettigrew is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott in Latham since her husband is in military service. Mrs. Mary Louise Lightfoot will again teach all the instrumental music in the bands and the vocal music in high school. Lloyd C. Helms will continue as coach and teach social studies. Mrs. Ruth Harm continues as teacher of girl physical education and social studies. Miss Helen Boyce will begin her third term as vocational home economics teacher. Roscoe Gibson is head of the vocational agriculture department assisted by L. E. Morris, supervisor and teacher in veterans on-the-farm training with Nedson Hall and V. B. Williams, instructors in veterans agriculture. Mrs. Barbara Kasper continues to serve as secretary to Mr. Gibson in the agriculture office. M. E. Carey is janitor at Tipton and J. N. Morris janitor at Syracuse.

Caleb Peters, George Peoples and Russell Brenton are owners of the busses and will serve next term.

School will begin as usual the last Monday in August which is the 27th this fall.

Cole Camp School Opens September 2

All teaching positions in Cole Camp public schools have been filled for the coming school term. The faculty includes.

John W. Ragland, Superintendent.

Vergil Oglevie, high school principal and coach.

Lillian Winton, English; Mary Hieronymus, Science; Clarence H. Ragland, Commerce; Marvin Granneman, Music; Mildred Junge, Home Economics; Kenneth E. James, Vocational Agriculture;

Ralph Hein, Veterans' Agriculture; Pearl Traugott, grades 7 and 8; Pauline Dueber, grades 5 and 6; Opal Carnes, grades 3 and 4; Opal Boeschen, grades 1 and 2; Zelphia Hill, Special Education.

Mr. Granneman and Mr. Hein are new faculty members. Mr. Granneman is a graduate from Drury College, Springfield, and is serving in the place made vacant by Mrs. Ralph Berry. Mr. Hein is replacing Mr. Robert Denker, who recently resigned to accept a vocational agriculture position at Green Ridge. Mr. James recently returned from a leave of absence given him when he was recalled into military service last October.

He is replacing Mr. Weston, who resigned to accept a vocation agriculture position at Anderson, Mo.

The old school building is being cleaned by the custodian, Clarence Goosen, and redecorated by Harold Renz, of Cole Camp. Some new drinking fountains and some new toilet facilities have been installed this summer.

As in the past, three large busses will be operated over about the same routes. Also, one car route will be operated.

Book days for high school students were held the second week in August and it appears that the high school enrollment will number about 120. About 100 pupils are expected in the grade school. The term will open, Tuesday, September 4.

The peace treaty for the War of 1812 was signed at Ghent, Belgium.

School Districts In Pettis County

There are six high school districts in Pettis county. One of these (Sedalia) is classified as a city district. It operates a high school for white children and one for Negro children. Also included in the system are six white elementary schools and one Negro elementary school.

Two of the high school districts in the county are consolidated schools. These are Houstonia and Hughesville. Each district operates one elementary school and a high school. La Monte, Smithton and Green Ridge are classed as re-organized districts, as the district boundaries of each were changed by the school reorganization election held November 1, 1949. La Monte operates an elementary and a high school in town plus several outlying rural schools.

Smithton operates six outlying rural districts in addition to the elementary school and high school in town. Green Ridge operates its town elementary and high school and three outlying rural schools. The total enrollment last year in the high school districts was as follows: White elementary pupils, 3,010; Negro elementary pupils, 226; white high school pupils, 1,303; Negro high school pupils, 177.

In the county there are three non-high school six-director districts. These are Georgetown which operates one rural school; Longwood, which operates two rural schools and Reorganized district R-I which last year operated four rural schools. There is a possibility that district R-I may close one of its schools during the coming year. Enrollment in these three districts is 153 pupils.

Remaining in rural Pettis county since the school reorganization program are only thirty-six rural or three-director districts ,and of these only twenty-nine will be in operation next year. The enrollment in the rural schools is 604.

What Modern College Means to the Girls

By Betty Stafford

The biggest thing in a girl's life is graduation from high school. But with graduation comes the realization that the fun has graduated too. After the parties and gaiety of graduation festivities die down a girl must begin to think of what she wants to do in the future.

She has three alternatives—to get married, go to work or to continue her education and go to college. If the decision is that of going to college she must decide what she wishes to accomplish from her college education, both while there and after completion.

With many colleges to choose from the decision should be based on what college has to offer, the size of the student body and faculty and the particular course of study she wishes to pursue.

A large state university gives a girl a broad education in academic study as well as social life. There are many people from which to choose your friends and there is always a gay social whirl.

The first days at college will probably seem strange, but activity begins so quickly that these strange moments soon pass. Freshman orientation for all girls begins immediately and this gives the newcomers a chance to become acquainted with the organizations on the campus so she can decide which ones she is interested in joining.

Then the first day of school rolls around and the freshman becomes acquainted with even more people. Work is assigned and if you don't get it done the professor doesn't particularly care—it's all up to you from now on. This is the big difference between high school and college. In high school you receive individual attention and the constant plea to "please get your lessons." In college teachers have better things to do than to coax 300 students to get their lessons so it is up to you to assume your responsibilities and to get them done.

Picnics, parties, dances and football games soon start and the freshman finds herself swamped with studies and invitations. The first football game is a thrilling experience with the many bands, chrysanthenums, pennants, and the gaiety in the air. Of course there are parties everywhere after the games, either to celebrate victory or to drown defeat.

In the midst of all the good times, however, the freshman will soon find that week nights are the time to study and the weekends the time for play. In all probability you will have to study since study halls are maintained and in most colleges it is compulsory to attend.

Now to get back to the so-called main objective in attending college, to prepare yourself to follow a career upon graduation. If you plan to be a secretary perhaps a business school would be your first choice. For a teacher one should attend one of the many teacher's colleges that the state of Missouri has to offer. The University of Missouri also has an excellant school of education which gives you a well rounded education in many fields other than teaching.

If nursing is the profession you wish to attain, a strong major in chemistry or physics for a year or two is advised with concentrated study in a hospital to finish your training.

For a liberal education in arts science with a major in history or English literature any of the colleges in the state offer this.

If you are interested in studying journalism the University of Missouri has the best undergraduate journalism school in the country. Practical experience is obtained through work on a newspaper at the same time you are attending school.

Many girls are in doubt as where their main interest lies, and therefore think college is a waste of time. This is a mistake since a year or two of advanced education never hurt anyone. Who knows, you may develop an interest in a certain field or in a certain person. Colleges are excellent places to find a husband if object number one is matrimony.

Many colleges have programs which advise students and help them choose a field of study. Missouri university has such a program called "Careers Conference." This conference is held each year in the spring and leading professional people come to talk to girls and to advise them in choosing a career.

Leading journalist, linguists, business men and women and educators hold conferences with girls and each meeting is limited to 15 persons so individual attention can be given. This is extremely helpful to many girls and another attraction is that for every meeting you attend you are excused from class.

College is all what you make it and what determination you approach it. Your contacts are lifelong and your future will be more secure if you can face a prospective employer with a degree in hand.

Remember, too, that for a good time and plenty to do, college can't be beat. You never run out of parties to attend, and just living in a dormitory with 50 or 100 other girls is a continual party. You can always plan your party or picnic or just go to the local spot for a "gab" session with the gang.

A Boy's Freshman Year at College

By Robert Van Horn

College life for the new freshman boy is filled with many new experiences and much excitement. From the first day of school during Orientation week until the last day of the winter term when the freshman leaves for home he will have lived a completely new life and will have many new experiences.

The first week of school is usually an orientation week designed to acquaint the new boy with college life and customs. During this first week he will meet many new friends, get acquainted with the campus and familiarize himself with the customs of the school which he is attending.

One of the big events of the first week is a series of tests which are taken to determine aptitudes, vocational tendencies and to test general knowledge. After these tests, however, the remainder of the time is spent enrolling in specific courses, attending "get-acquainted" parties and meeting school mates in the dorm or in frat houses.

Then as the first week comes to an end the upper classmen return in droves to take over the school, the dorm and a great part of the time of the freshman boy as he is initiated or welcomed into the college.

This initiation varies in the different schools. In some, the ceremonies of welcome last for a long time, while the freshman is required to do many strange things. Some schools require that the freshman wear certain type caps, some groups undergo a pajama day during which time they wear only pajamas as they parade through town. Still other practices are observed in other schools.

In the weeks that follow, the new student's arrival to school he will find that his dormitory life will occupy much of his time as he goes through all the tried and tested pranks which have plagued new college boys for many years. Some nights he will be hustled out of bed to perform many unusual deeds such as taking a mid-night hike to look for some strange article, counting the windows in the girl's dorm or doing calisthentics on the front lawn of the dormitory.

Always there is some deversion for the new student even if he is compelled to find his own. He may start a friendly card game, play any number of sports or as it happens in many cases visit the girl's dormitory.

After the newness of college wears away the freshman will find that there are many funny tales to tell about his professors and he will spend a great amout of time discussing his teachers with other students.

Then when the sports season starts the freshman will find that he is once again quite new to the college. He will find that it is hard to transfer his allegience to the college activities from high school, but soon the change will become complete and he will root whole heartedly for his college team.

The activities on all campuses are numerous. There are fraternities, clubs, sports activities, class meetings, picnics, school sponsored plays, parties, dances, assemblies, recitals plus all the town events. Whether the college the boy is attending is a university or a smaller school the activities are just about the same.

Having a room mate gives the college boy a chance to learn to live with others and also affords him the opportunity to visit with that room mate at his home which might possibly be in a different part of the state or country.

The college boy is thrown into association with other boys from all parts of the country and he can learn much about those various sections from his associations. It is not uncommon to find one room in the dormitory or frat house filled with 10 or more boys discussing everything from their home to yesterday's biology test.

One of the great advantages of attending college is the contacts the college student makes. These are not only made with students of one's own college, but sports events and other competitive affairs gives the student a chance to meet students from other colleges and also to meet many people who may serve as valuable contacts in the future.

Not the least of the advantages of attending college, however, are the studies. Whether the student is entering into a profession, in which case a college education is essential, or whether he is merely taking a liberal arts course he will at least be exposed to many fields of learning and have the opportunity of studying under many fine educators.

To the beginning student the arrangement of fixing out a schedule according to hours is sometimes coufusing. This is understandable when you consider that the arrangement of hours in the different schools varies. In most college's, however, the hours refer to the number of class hours. For instance, the student may have a history class which he attends three hours a week, thus this course is called a three hour course. A class attended five hours a week would be called a five hour class and so on. So when the credits are fixed out for the student he is credited with having three hours of history and as many other hours as he is allowed to take. The average course takes about 15 hours per semester.

So after the school year is completed the student has become a part of the college and though he may return again to the same school he still will experience many new and exciting events.

The school at Florence.

Morgan County School Program

One of the most important events in the progress of the schools in Morgan county occurred on July 31, 1951, in an election which resulted in the formation of District R-I in Morgan county, Missouri. District R-I includes twenty-five former school districts, one of which was the town district of Stover. The newly formed district extends from Florence on the north, through Stover and to the Lake of the Ozarks on the south. The area included in the district is almost the western half of Morgan county.

There will be nineteen operating rural schools in the new district, in addition to the schools that are situated in Stover, Missouri, for the school year 1951-52. It is believed that the one-room schools in the new district will gradually close, upon the completion of centrally located buildings in which four elementary schools will be housed. The high school center will be in Stover, Missouri. Due to a fire in the spring of 1951 a building to house the high school will be constructed soon.

It is estimated that there are 635 elementary pupils in the district for the school year 1951-52 and 150 high school pupils. It is the hope of those who worked for the formation of this district that the elementary school centers will be situated near homes of children who attend the center. Transportation of elementary pupils will gradually increase in the district. The pattern of transportation for high school pupils will undergo very little change on account of the formation of the new district. An election to be held on August 2, 95 will determine the members of the board of education which will control the schools of the new district.

At this time — August 17, 1951 —six persons residing within the district have filed a declaration of candidacy for a position on the new board. Those who have filed are scattered through the district, and, if elected, will represent all sections of the new district.

Florence to be Elementary Center

The Florence school which is located in the northwest part of Morgan county has an enrollment of 30 pupils.

The board of education which consists of Edwin Bremer, George Hotsenpiller and Chester Anderson have re-employed Mrs. Paul Sanders and Mrs. Harold Eldenburg as teachers.

The P. T. A. has sponsored a hot luch program for the past ten years.

The people of the Florence community have shown their interest in education by having maintained a third class high school for a number of years, building the present building in 1935 and by imposing a school tax of $2.25 at the last election. Moreover at the recent election which occurred July 31st, Florence voted 51 to 26 in favor of redistricting. This was a greater percentage than any other precinct in the county.

Under the new plan Florence is to be an elementary center and the high school pupils will continue their education in the Stover high school.

Activity Drive September 10

The Activity drive will start Monday, September 10 and close September 14 at one o'clock. The coronation ceremonies will be Friday night at the football game with Marshall. This means only five days to begin and complete a successful drive. With the difference in the enrollment of the classes the contest will again be conducted on the percentage basis. The first ballot for the class queens will be voted Monday morning in class meetings. At the completion of the third period Monday morning, the class meeting will be held in the following rooms: Senior class in the Senior High School library, Junior class in the middle section of the lower auditorium, Sophomore class in the Music room, Freshman class in the Junior High school library, and eighth grade in the balcony of the auditorium. After the election all students will report to their fourth hour class. The three girls receiving the highest number of votes for nominating ballot will again be voted on during the first hour class Tuesday to determine the queen of the class. A free ticket will be given to each student who sells ten activity tickets. Each free ticket counts double votes. All activity tickets must be sold for the original price of $3.00. Any class underselling will disqualify their queen from the contest.

Faculty Members for Calhoun School

The first high school in Calhoun was called the Calhoun academy. It consisted of three rooms. On May 6, 1873 the Calhoun Public Building Enterprise was incorporated for the erection of a new school building.

The new building contained two rooms and a large hallway and was ready for use in 1883. Professor R. M. Moore and Miss Mary Tutt were the first teachers. The next summer a storm took the roof off the new building and when the roof was replaced two more rooms were added to the buiding.

In 1889-1890 a standard grade course was adopted. The first diploma was issued to Besie B. Bronaugh, now Mrs. C. S. Morrow who resides in Calhoun, on April 7, 1890.

The present school building consists of eight rooms. In November 1949 the Calhoun district and the Moore, George, Oakland, Bronough, Lewis, Highland, Roseland, Powell and Crews districts were consolidated into what is known as district R-8.

The present board of education is: Shy Miller, president; Walter J. Wiley, vice president; Harry Redford, secretary; Paul Burns, treasurer; Efton Bradley, Whyatt East and Walter Varner, directors.

The high school faculty is as follows: Mrs. J. E. Jageman, superintendent and teacher of physical education; Mr. H. S. Snare, principal and commerce teacher; Gorden Brown, music and history; Mrs. Yount, English. Grade school: room one, Mrs. Esther Burnsides; room two, Mrs. Ollie Green; room three, Mrs. Fannie Ketchum; room four, Mrs. Lewis.

The teacher for Roseland school, Mrs. Pearl Uhlenbock; George school, Miss Edna Johnson, Oakland school, Mrs. Gorden Brown; Bronaugh school, Mrs. Thompson; Lewis school, Mrs. Anderson; Highland school, Mrs. John Vestal.

La Monte Schools Open September 4

The La Monte public schools are scheduled to open on Sept. 4 with the following teachers and personnel:

High School — Mrs. Lucille Reavis, social studies; Mrs. Ellen Hollenbeck, English and speech; Mrs. Alma Ruth Cripe, home economics; Thomas Montgomery, general shop and mathematics; Miss Mary Frances Burlingame, music (elementary school also); Miss Catherine Benson, principal and commerce; Alfred Brown, superintendent and American Problems.

The teaching position physical education and science remains unfilled.

Elementary Schools — Mrs. Miriam Hughes, 7th and 8th grades (in town); Miss Bessie Priest, 5th and 6th grades (principal); Mrs. Elaine Breon, 3rd and 4th grades; Mrs. Elizabeth Higgins, 1st and 2nd grades.

Miss Eilene Kendrick, Bethel; Mrs. Sue Scott, Pleasant Green; Mrs. Jewell Fowler, Stokley; Mrs. Minnie Tegtmeyer, Bleak Mound; Mrs. Frank Diefendorf, Oak Point.

The school system will again operate four lunch programs. However, final arrangements have not been completed. The school will again operate four school busses, including one feeder bus. Final arrangements for drivers have not been completed. J. E. Noland will again be custodian at the central buildings in La Monte.

This year we will have a new industrial arts building, which will be of permanent type construction. The building will be 30x60 feet, and will house one classroom, shop, storage room, and rest room.

General shop was added to the curriculum last year, along with home economics and the new building, which should be completed in time for opening of school, will add much to the present facilities of the school. Other minor changes and additions are being made in the main building.

Teaching Staff Of Otterville School

The faculty for the Syracuse public school for 1951-52 is made up of the following: Principal, Kenneth Stahlbut, who will teach seventh and eighth grades; Mrs. Elelena Anthony, will teach fifth and sixth grades; Miss Vivian Holloway will teach grades three and four and Mrs. Meryle Repper grades one and two. The latter taught in the same positions last term. Prof. Stahlbut is teaching for the first time in Syracuse, he taught last year in Baxter.

Mrs. Mary Louise Lightfoot will teach band music here, also in Tipton. The high school pupils of this community attend Tipton high school as two years ago the Syracuse district voted to annex with the Tipton district and is known as the Tipton district. Leonard Stahl was elected one of the school directors this spring.

George Peoples owns and operates three school busses in this community. He and Harry Fowler will drive two of the busses.

Mrs. Harry Fowler and Mrs. George Peoples are in charge of their third year in that capacity.

J. R. Conley is custodian again this year in the Syracuse building. During the summer months he has redecorated the gymnasium, the side walls are white, the end walls are a pastel green and the woodwork all buff. He has water proofed the out side of the building with water proofing.

Mr. Conley takes a great interest in taking care of the flowers and the lawn.

Pilot Grove School Opens September 4

The opening of another term of school for Pilot Grove is not far away, with plans to open on September 4th. September 3rd will be spent by all teachers in a ccunty wide teachers conference. The plan is to enroll September 4th before lunch and run through the schedule after lunch. Lunch will be served at school the first day.

Keith Davis is superintendent, Morris Settle will coach and teach English, Byron Beckner will teach vocational agriculture, Mrs. Billie Rolens will teach Vocational Home Economics, Miss Zora Boals will teach mathematics and science, Miss Lyda Harris will teach social studies and coach girls basketball, William Wallace will teach commerce, and James Holder will teach music.

Some new courses this year that were discontinued for some time because of the lack of teachers are again being added. The courses are biology, American problems, music theory and harmony and hygene. Pilot Grove ranks well above the minimum requirements for an A class school and were so classed last year. With the additions to the program will be in a position this year to really meet the needs of most rural boys and girls.

In the grade school will again have Joe Twenter as principal, and Mrs. Louis Hurt, Miss Dorothy Downing, and Mrs. Morris Settle as teachers. It is planned to make an extensive study of the grade school program this year placing emphasis on developing the basic tools or skills in the learning process. One important phase of this program will be a complete testing program and outside consultants to help choose materials and develop methods.

Our custodian Raymond Knettles has the building cleaned and painted and our mechanic Joe Rybak has the eight busses ready to go. These two men will cover the music building with shingles before school begins. The new shop and bus barn have been completed. It is 100-ft x 50-ft. and will cost about $8,000. Plans are being made to replace the Negro school and hope to have it completed by cold weather.

The War of 1812 ended on Christmas Eve, 1814.

Faculty of Lincoln School

School will open in District R-2 at Lincoln on Monday, September 3, with a day of faculty plan meetings and work preparatory to opening school to the student body for a full day of classes on Tuesday, September 4.

No major improvement projects are planned for this year in the school system, and Superintendent Lawrence Daniels, who has been in Lincoln during the summer, plans to effect more efficient organization of the system and to emphasize the fundamental skills and moral and ethical behavior in the instructional program.

Eugene C. Wolkey, principal, instructor of physical education and athletic coach, has been employed in Lincoln during the summer and has purchased and occupied a new home in addition to welcoming another daughter into his family. He was forced to terminate his graduate study during the summer term at CMSC due to his wife's illness.

Miss Avis Lee Cannon, instructor of commercial subjects and director of student activities, will return to the post in which she has become a favorite during the past five years. In addition to scheduling school activities and establishing and maintaining an accurate accounting system for school activity funds last year, she sponsored the school paper "Lincoln Echoes" which won national recognition by ranking in fourth place among mimeographed publications in small high schools over the nation. She also sponsored the school's yearbook, "The Cardinal" and was co-sponsor with Mr. Wolkey of the Senior class. Miss Cannon was a graduate student at the University of Denver this summer.

Miss Estelle Fight was awarded the Master of Science in Education degree from CMSC this summer wheer she already held the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Science in Education. Miss Fight will return to Lincoln as teacher of mathematics and English and acting libraraian. During the past year she offered private instruction in dancing in Lincoln and during the summer has assisted her sister in the Fight Dancing schools of Warrensburg and Knob Noster.

Mrs. Dorothy Brady, music supervisor, who last year initiated Lincoln's music program, organizing and training an outstanding 35 piece band and scoring triumphs in vocal and public school music, has conducted a summer band program and will continue her work this fall. The band, in full uniform, performed at Clinton's Fair last week and will perform at the State Fair on August 22.

Kelly Blythe, instructor of social studies and geography and coordinator of visual education, has spent the summer in Kansas City where he has worked and has been enrolled in the University of Kansas City's graduate school.

Robert Boothe, instructor of science and mathematics, who did graduate work at the University of Missouri this summer, has been released from his contract pending employment of a replacement. Mr. Boothe has been offered a similar position in the Higginsville schools and has requested to be released at Lincoln.

Miss Idellah Holley, instructor of vocational home economics in the Warsaw schools for the past seven years, will be in charge of Lincoln's vocational home economics program this year.

Charles Barnes, a recent graduate of Southwest State college at Springfield, has been employed as instructor of Industrial Arts and is moving to Lincoln the last of August. Mr. Barnes is married and has two small daughters.

Miss Geneva Garrison, a teacher in the Washburn, Mo., schools last year, will be homeroom teacher and instructor in language arts and social studies in grades seven and eight. Miss Garrison, her parents, and her niece, Miss Mayhew, a high school freshman, will move to Lincoln the last of August.

Mrs. Aubrey Shipman, who was teacher of the Santiago school in District R-2 last year, will teach grades five and six in the Lincoln elementary school this year. Mrs. Shipman was formerly assigned to grades three and four but will move into the position made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Helen Brill, whose husband has been ill during the summer. Mrs. Shipman has specialized training in the intermiate grades.

Mrs. Marie Rambow will continue as teacher of grades one and two in the Lincoln elementary school.

Miss Bernice Cole will move from grades seven and eight to grades three and four in the Lincoln elementary school. Miss Cole, a primary major, has requested lower grade assignment.

Mrs. Alice Delozier will be teacher of the Santiago elementary school with grades one to six.

Mrs. Genevieve Curtis will be teacher of the Union elementary school with grades one to six.

Mrs. Mildred Bridgewater will continue as teacher of the Rocky Dale elementary school for colored children with grades one to eight.

The employment of an additional elementary teacher to do special teaching needed to assist pupils who have fallen behind in their work or are unable to attend classes has been authorized by the board of education but the position has not yet been filled.

Six school busses will be operated again this year with Ed Meuschke contracting two busses, Leo Hare two busses, Paul Schenewark one bus, and Murl Ballew one bus. Ted Johnson will continue as school custodian.

State Fair Awards

Wool Show

Charles S. Brown, Osborn, Mo., veteran sheep grower and a breeder of Corriedales for thirty-two years, again had the State Champion fleece of the fourth annual Missouri State Fair wool show. Brown also had reserve fleece in a top quality exhibit that had no low grading entries according to J. R. Ellis, Kansas City, Mo., who served as judge. Although the show of 1951 was considerably larger than last year, E. Glen Thacker, Midwest Wool Growers Co-operative, Kansas City stated that several fleeces, entered in the show stored in the warehouses located in the Kansas City flood area were destroyed. However, Thacker stated that Midwest was fortunate in having complete insurance coverage on all stored wool that was lost.

HONG KONG—(AP)—On the face of it, you couldn't think of a "safer" Communist than 43-year-old Li I-Min.

Li joined the Communist party in 1939. A native of Hsuchow, in Shantung province, he went far in 12 years. Until recently he was chief of all red cadres in Hsuchow and deputy secretary of all party committees in the municipal government.

But last month, in spite of his record, Li was expelled from the Communist party. His mistake, apparetly, was in being kind to his relatives. He appeared at a public trial and spoke in defense of his relatives.

The party's disciplinary committee ruled that Li I-Min had "lost his class standing by shielding the enemies of the class."

History of Lincoln School To The Present Time

The old original school building at Lincoln was destroyed by fire way back in the year 1917, with all except a few of the schools records which happened not to be in the building at the time of the disaster, going up in the flames and completely destroyed the structure.

Citizens immediately set to work to construct a neat red brick building which was dedicated with great ado at a special dedicatory service held in the year 1918.

The building with its expansive grounds dotted with trees, and flowering shrubs is located in the north-eastern part of the city. During the early years of its history only the first 10 grades were taught with Mrs. Idella Henry Attwood, now of Lincoln, to be the first student graduated from the school and the only student to finish the course provided that year. No graduating exercises were held at that time and the diploma was handed to her by one of her teachers.

In later years another grade was added. Back in the early 20's five teachers comprised the teaching staff. During this period it was voted to add the 12th grade and that time the school became one of the accredited schools of Benton county with an attendance of estimated less than 100 students.

As the population of the city increased additions were made to the old structure to accommodate the ever increasing enrollment of students with a home economics now being provided where many phases of homemaking including cooking, sewing, canning, meal-planning and etc., is studied in pleasant surroundings. The room was furnished with several modern electric sewing machines, ranges, refrigerators and sinks, built-ins, cutting tables, floor length mirrors and a lounge provided with divan, chairs, colorful draperies, table lamps and a new industrial arts shop was added to the building last year.

Music and a school of dancing has been added to the schools curriculum in recent years and a school band composed of 35 pieces is making rapid progress in their work and has been furnishing special music at local entertainments for the past several months. They participated in the entertainment provided by school bands from other localities over the state at the commuity fair which was held at Clinton from other localities over the state at the community fair which was held at Clinton the second week of this month and at which time the group clad in their new uniforms, were honored with compliments on their neat and attractive appearance by Missouri Governor Forrest Smith of Jefferson City who also attended the fair there that day. The uniforms consist of red jackets with white skirts for the girls and similiar jackets with white trousers for the boys.

The school gymnasium is not only used as an indoor court for basketball, volley ball and other sports taught and enjoyed indoors but it also serves as an auditorium where commencement exercises, baccalaureate serviecs and etc., are held and where a well equipped stage is located with special lights, including foot lights in varied colors to add to the effectiveness of such meetings, as well as home talent plays, musicals, etc. A new score clock has also been placed in the room in recent years. Since the converting of the community building into a theatre about a year ago the gym serves as a meeting place for the Lions and community 4-H clubs as well as other civic affairs. It is estimated that about 500 persons may be comfortably seated there-in.

In the autumn of November 1949 Lincoln became the center of reorganized school district No. R-2 with 8 of the wealthiest districts in the county, Greenfield, Golden, McMurdo, Pierce, Hutsler, Rocky Dale and Santiago consolidating to join with Lincoln in forming the new district. Later two other rural schools, Orr and Baugh, were annexed to the districts with school directors elected and new serving. They are Williard Owens, Eugene Roberts, Wallace Dundas, Winston Rank, Bernice Chastain and Martin Schnakenberg.

Rural students are transported from their home to Lincoln by ways of school bus, six of which according to those in charge, will operate to convey students this year.

Hot lunches will be prepared and served at the school cafeteria by experienced cooks and waitreses, this winter at a reasonable cost to students.

A parent teachers association was organized last fall for the first time with projects sponsored by the group successfully carried out. The first elected to serve as president of the new organization was Mrs. Ed Kullman a former rural teacher.

Ted Johnson has been re-employed as chief custodian and wehn school opens the enrollments this year is expected to be more than last year.

Lincoln district R-2 also embraces a separate school the former rural school building in Rocky Dale district which is located about two miles west of town was converted into a school for Negroes last year and a competent Negro teacher will be in charge each school year of the education of Negro youths of the surrounding community.

In the beginning students had no choice in subject matter, they studied only the most essential subjects taught. Today a wide variety of subjects are taught and the school has in its employment a large staff of efficient teachers composed of: Lawrence Daniels, superintendent, E. V. Wolkey, principle, Miss Estelle Fight, mathematics and English, Miss Avis Lee Cannon, commerce, Miss Idella Holly, home economics, Kelly Blythe, history, Miss Bernice Cole,Jr., high teacher and Mrs. Homer Brady, music.

Music Program In Smith-Cotton

The Vocal Music Department of Smith Cotton high school has many activities throughout the year. This department is composted of three major organizations, Freshman-Sophomore Girls Glee Club, Junior-Senior Girls Glee Club, and Boys Glee Club. From these groups, many small ensembles are formed, such as sextets, quartets, trios, and duets.

The various organizations are prepared to present programs for assemblies as well as for many civic affairs throughout the city. The Christmas season finds them adding carolling to their many programs. Their repertoires include light music, such as minstrel programs for the carnival, and musical comedy programs for the annual variety show, as well as formal concert music for their regular concerts.

Spring contests form a very important part of the Vocal Music schedule. The soloists and small ensembles all made very creditable showings last year at both the invitation contest in Marshall, and the state music contest in Columbia.

Enrollment in the Glee clubs this year have increased tremenduously over previous years, and the members are all looking forward to a busy and profitable season.

Miss Jerry Teufel directs these groups.

The Smith Cotton high school orchestra has already held a very important place in the music of the school and of the community.

The orchestra, numbering approximately 70 members, has a complete instrumentation. Besides giving two formal concerts each year, the orchestra is active in assembly programs, and other functions of the school.

Many small ensembles are formed from the members of the orchestra. These groups appear often to entertain the various parent teacher groups in the city, as well as other civic organizations.

One of the major events of the year for the orchestra is the All-School Orchestra Concert given every spring for all students in the Sedalia public schools. The high school orchestra acts as a nucleus for this organization, and has contributed much toward its success.

Many members of the high school orchestra are also members of the Sedalia symphony orchestra. This year, as in the past, they will give very valuable service to this civic group.

The orchestra, under the direction of Miss Jerry Teufel, expects to have a very busy season this year.

The Smith Cotton high school band has a standing membership of 75 members. In addition to adding color and pep to the various school athletic events, the band also contributes much to the activities of the many civic clubs in Sedalia.

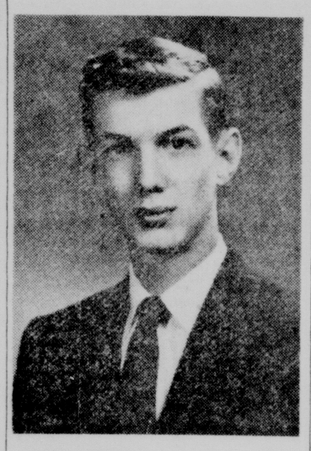

During marching season, the band participates in many parades, along with formation appearances at all home football games. Usually, the band makes one out of town trip with the football team, to help arouse pep and school spirit for the games. A pep band performs for all home basket ball games, cheering the home team on to victory. Sonny Rabourn is this year's Drum Major.

Following marching season the band goes into a rigid season of rehearsals of concert band. Besides furnishing talent for many school assemblies, two formal concerts are given during the school year.

There will be several new additions to the band this year, showing promise of one of the best bands in the history of Smith Cotton high school.

Miss Jerry Teufel, director of music in the Sedalia public schools, is the director of the Smith Cotton high school band.
